Jardine Offers Plan For Agricultural Stabilization

U. S. BOARD PROPOSED BY FARM CHIEF

Urges Corporations to Assist in Placing Industry On Basis of Prosperity

LEGISLATION IS NEEDED

Federal Aid Proposal Will Be Major Relief Action Requested of Congress

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Secretary of Agriculture Jardine today urged all growers of major farm crops to organize stabilization corporations to assist in placing agriculture on a prosperity par with other industries.

He said the government, to aid such a move, would recommend that congress create a federal farm board to aid farmers and guide them in their problems.

Jardine's views, made public here today, were written for the Oklahoma stockman and farmer. Stabilization corporations, he said, should be established with a nominal capital stock, owned by properly organized commodity co-operatives.

Take Part of Surpluses "The corporations, under general guidance of the farm board, would take part of surpluses off the market, when exceptional seasons resulted in large crops and prevent prices from dropping to abnormally low levels," he said.

WRITER CHARGES FILM PLAGIARISM

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—A suit was on file in superior court here today asking $1,500,000 damages from the Famous Players-Lasky corporation and Cecil B. DeMille for alleged plagiarism of the scenario for the motion picture "The Ten Commandments."

The suit was instituted by Esther Eichenwald, whose identity, other than her name, was being held secret.

Violation of copyright is the chief contention of the complaint. Miss Eichenwald asserts that "The Ten Commandments" is merely another name for her play, "The Triumph," which she has copyrighted since Sept. 13, 1916.

BRATIANU FLEEING REPORTED FALSE

LONDON, Nov. 1.—Reports that Premier Bratianu, of Rumania, has fled, or is preparing to flee, are unfounded, according to information from the United Press Bureau here.

Apparently the government is complete master of the situation at present and the monarchial order represented by the king Michael is not jeopardized by the counter movement of those favoring Prince Carol, the correspondent reports.

Public interest is waning in the arrest of former Under Secretary of State Manolescu, who was apprehended at the frontier while carrying letters from Prince Carol to prominent Rumanians.

HUGHES TO HEAD DELEGATION TO PAN AMERICAN CONFERENCE

Appointment of Ex-Secretary of State Made By President

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Charles Evans Hughes, former secretary of state, was designated by President Coolidge today as chairman of the U. S. delegation to the sixth Pan American conference at Havana, Cuba, opening Jan. 16, 1928.

The other members of the American delegation, as announced at the White House, are: Henry P. Fletcher, Pennsylvania, American ambassador to Italy; Oscar Underwood, former Democratic senator from Alabama; Dwight W. Morrow, New Jersey, newly appointed American ambassador to Mexico; Morgan J. O'Brien, of New York; James Brown Scott, of the Carnegie Foundation for International Peace, Washington, D. C.; Ray Lyman Wilbur, president of Stanford University, California, and Dr. Leo S. Rowe, director general of the Pan American union here.

When the new U. S. ambassador to Cuba is appointed he will be added to the delegation.

CAPITAL THINKS FRANK LOWDEN MUCH IN RACE

Norbeck's Support Believed to Give Illinois Man Great Strength

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The statement of Senator Norbeck, Republican leader of South Dakota, that he is for Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois, was interpreted here today as convincing notice that Lowden is very much in the race for the 1928 Republican presidential nomination.

Norbeck has complete control of the Republican organization of his state.

BARNARD CERTAIN TO BE A. L. PRESIDENT

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Belief that Ernest S. Barnard, president of the Cleveland baseball club would be named president of the American league to succeed Ban Johnson, retired, became a virtual certainty today.

The owners will elect the league chief at a meeting here tomorrow, and all hints from authoritative sources point toward Barnard's selection.

Will Harridge, secretary to the former president, the only other man who has been mentioned as a candidate for president, said today he was not a candidate. Harridge will be elected secretary of the league when Barnard is made president tomorrow, it was believed.

Barnard will be given a 5-year contract at $40,000 annually, the same salary Johnson received, baseball authorities said.

MURDERER FOUND SANE, MUST DIE

LOCKHART, Tex., Nov. 1.—A. V. Millikin, slayer of Mrs. Virginia Petty, of San Antonio, today was found sane by a district court jury.

The defense gave notice of appeal.

Unless a higher court interferes, Millikin will be electrocuted at the state prison at Huntsville, on Friday.

Marines Defeat Nicaragua Rebels

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—American marines have met and defeated a small body of Nicaraguan rebels near Quilich, without reported losses to the marines, American Charge Munro reported to the state department today from Managua. Munro said details were lacking.

Chamber Asks Tax Slash Of $400,000,000

Takes Issue with Coolidge And Mellon, Who Seek $225,000,000 Cut

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Siding with the Democrats against President Coolidge and Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, representatives of the United States Chamber of Commerce today appealed to the house ways and means committee for a $400,000,000 tax reduction.

Appearing at opening of the hearings on the new revenue bill, spokesmen for the chamber asked the committee to reduce the corporation tax from 13 1/2 to 10 per cent, wipe out all excise taxes on automobiles and admissions and eliminate the estates tax.

Representatives of the chamber took direct issue with Mr. Coolidge and Mellon, who said reduction must be held around $225,000,000.

Mellon has proposed that the corporation tax be reduced only to 12 per cent and that excise taxes be retained as they are.

CRIPPLE ATTACKS KIND MOTORISTS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—A mystery attack by a "cripple," who assaulted two friendly motorists who gave him a lift, then picked up his crutches, leaped from the machine and fled, is being probed by the police today.

C. P. Kirsch, suffering from several hammer wounds on the head, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Edith Kneale, also beaten during the ride, told the story that started the search for the "cripple."

Kirsch said that he was driving through the rain last night when the man appeared in the street and signaled for a ride.

Hardly had the machine started when the passenger aimed a hammer blow at Kirsch. The mother-in-law screamed and Kirsch ducked, receiving several glancing blows before the man turned the weapon on Mrs. Kneale.

No Prospects Of Early Settlement In Mine Walkout

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 1.—Colorado awoke today to a crisp November morning, little coal in the bins and no immediate prospects of settlement of the coal strike, which has tied up production in virtually every field in the state.

Several thousand men remained idle as a result of the strike, although some mines were operating with increased forces.

The strike entered its third week today with a promise of I. W. W. leaders that picketing would halt early today at the end of the 30-hour period of grace granted Sunday night.

To some observers this marked the close of the strike.

Operators claimed that their men would work the instant picketing halted.

FILIPINOS DENY SIDESTEPED BY PRESIDENT

Had Arranged to Visit Department of War First, Says Guevara

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—President Coolidge today categorically denied a sensational report published here that President Coolidge had directed the Filipino leaders to present their "plea" to the president directly.

The report alleged Filipino dissatisfaction over the fact that their initial conference was at the war department and not the White House.

Commissioner Guevara said he knew of no basis for the report, as he had arranged some time ago for the Filipino leaders to visit Secretary of War Davis before seeing the president.

He understood it to be routine procedure for the cabinet officer to make White House appointments for official visitors from the Philippines.

Press is Critical Some elements of the Republican press are very critical of Quezon and a correspondent of one New York newspaper submitted to him a series of written questions implying that it had been his policy consistently to block the governor.

Major General MacArthur, slated for command of the Philippines department, visited Mr. Quezon at the Metropolitan club today. It was said to be merely a personal friendly call.

MAN BELIEVED WOMAN SLAYER GOES ON TRIAL

Earle Nelson, Captured in Canada, Thought to Be U. S. 'Strangler'

WINNIPEG, Nov. 1.—What promises to be one of Canada's most spectacular murder trials opened here today with Earle Nelson, "the gorilla man," facing charges of murdering Mrs. Emily Patterson.

Nelson is believed to be the "strangler" who is responsible for the deaths of 20 or more women in various cities of the United States.

Since his arrest he has maintained silence and before the trial opened today there was no indication as to what defense would be offered.

Nelson was said to have escaped from the Napa hospital for the criminal insane in California four years ago and it was believed insanity might be his defense.

Nelson also faces murder charges in connection with the death of Lola Cowan, a young girl found dead under circumstances similar to those surrounding the Patterson crime.

It was believed here that Nelson may be responsible for strangulations in San Francisco, Detroit, Seattle, Portland and other American cities.

ANTI-COMMUNIST LAWS DRAFTED BY GREEK GOVERNMENT

ATHENS, Nov. 1.—The minister of justice today began drafting anti-Communist laws as a result of Sunday's attempted assassination of President Paul Kondouritis by an alleged Communist.

It is understood several government ministers are urging that Communist organizations be made illegal by legislation.

ENGLAND'S DEATH TOLL NOW IS 70

If there ever was a "million dollar" rain, the rain of the 24 hours ending at 7 a. m. today, certainly is entitled to that honor. Never in the experience of the oldest inhabitant has the downfall for the 24-hour period been duplicated and rain records in possession of Hill and Son, dating back as far as 1877, fail to reveal any season in which the total at the end of October was as high as it is today.

For Santa Ana the storm total is 3.55 inches, the storm dating from 3 o'clock Monday morning. Of this amount, 3.14 inches were precipitated between 7 a. m. yesterday, and the same hour today.

It rained almost steadily yesterday and last night until after midnight.

REJECTED SUITOR KILLS GIRL, SELF

OAKLAND, Nov. 1.—Rejected for another suitor, Elroy Sylvester, 23, last night shot and killed his former fiancée, Evelyn King, 22, and then killed himself.

The double tragedy occurred in front of the girl's home.

Miss King and her new fiancé, Joseph Colida, were sitting in a parked automobile when Sylvester suddenly appeared and commanded her to "come with me."

She left the car and her escort drove for help.

Before he had driven a block he heard two shots. He returned and found the two lying on the ground, both shot through the head.

FORMER KAISER'S STEPSON IS KILLED

GRUENSBURG, Germany, Nov. 1.—Prince George Von Schonach, stepson of the former Kaiser, died today of injuries he received when his motorcycle crashed.

He was a son of Princess Hermine, whom the former Kaiser married five years ago.

Princess Hermine was advised of her son's death when she arrived at Berlin from Hamburg at noon today. She left immediately for Gruenberg.

"Early and plentiful rains have aided an already favorable agricultural situation," the report states. "No damage has been reported, while immense benefit has resulted."

"With the crop year passing into history it seems apparent that 1927 will prove to be a record season in agricultural return to California."

DECLARATION OF MISTRIAL IS EXPECTED

Fall-Sinclair Prosecution Makes Public Affidavits To Support Its Claims

COURT IS ADJOURNED

Assert Juror Said He Expected to Receive Auto In Event of Acquittal

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The Fall-Sinclair conspiracy trial was adjourned this afternoon to tomorrow to give Justice Sides time to consider starting jury tampering charges made to him by government attorneys.

Meantime sensational affidavits, supporting these charges, were made public.

Government attorneys predicted the judge probably would call a mistrial tomorrow. They said before he orders the adjournment that the trial was already as good as ended.

The affidavits, made by two assistants to S. attorneys and two other men, showed the following: 1—Edward J. Kidwell, juror No. 11, a leather worker, said he expected to get an automobile "as long as a block" if Fall and Sinclair were not convicted.

2—That 14 or 15 men of the Burns Detective agency, of New York, have had the jurors under hour by hour surveillance since the trial started.

3—That an important raid was made on the Washington headquarters of the Burns Detective agency, in which the local manager and three operatives were caught and committed.

SAN DIEGO MAN IS HONORED BY FRANCE

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 1.—Jefferson Davis, San Diego, today held the title chivalier of the Legion of Honor, following a ceremony here at which Brig. Gen. Georges A. L. Dumont, attaché of the French embassy in Washington, conferred the honor upon him.

The decoration was awarded by France in recognition of Davis' activities in the advancement of aviation.

SAILOR CONFESSES TO DOUBLE SLAYING

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 1.—Henry Molty, former Arcadian sailor, today made a full confession that he murdered his wife and her sister-in-law here last Wednesday.

Ever since his capture at Cut-off, La., Sunday, Molty had insisted the murders were committed by a "Norwegian sailor," although he admitted witnessing the crimes. He was using only blank cartridges.

"Moreover," he declared, "the only way one can get a bunch of youngsters into a church on Halloween is to make more noise than they do. It arouses their curiosity and admiration."

Needed Gun To Get Children To Church Party

DENVER, Colo., Nov. 1.—Drastic action necessary to gather enough children for a social at the Washington Park Community church Halloween night caused police to question the Rev. R. M. McCormack here.

The Rev. Mr. McCormack was firing a revolver into the air in the vicinity of his church when Patrolman Schley appeared, police said.

plete reports of the surveillance were seized.

That Kidwell told of dice or poker games being played in the jury room during recesses of the trial.

The affidavit was made by Neil Burkishaw and Walter M. Shea, assistant U. S. attorneys; J. Ray Akers, a guest car conductor, and Don Key King.

It also was learned that Mason Day, an official of the Sinclair Exploration company, and Donald Woodward, president of a department store company here, had been called before a grand jury which started an investigation of this case today.

Burkishaw said he started the investigation on learning of the detective surveillances.

Talking About Trial Akers said he saw Kidwell in a soft drink establishment last Saturday afternoon, talking about the trial.

Akers said Kidwell "didn't hope to get anything by conviction, but did by acquittal."

"If I don't come out with a car as long as a block I'll be surprised," Kidwell was alleged to have said.

Don Key King, reporter on the Washington Herald, in his affidavit, corroborated Akers' testimony about Kidwell's words.

Burkishaw's affidavit follows: "I am an assistant U. S. attorney for the District of Columbia. As a result of information communicated to me, I investigated certain alleged facts with the following results:

"I caused a search warrant to be issued for an apartment at the Wardman Park hotel, where I had discovered that Charles G. Ruddy, a manager of the Burns Detective agency, and G. H. Robbins, an assistant manager of the same agency, were stopping and were engaged in directing a large number of so-called detectives, employed by the Burns Detective agency, in surveillance of the petit jury impeached and sworn in the above case.

Shea Serves Warrant "The said search warrant was served upon the personal supervision and in the presence of Walter M. Shea, to whom I had previously communicated the information I had. Said Walter M. Shea is also an assistant U. S. district attorney for the District of Columbia.

"The service of the search warrant and the papers obtained by its service confirm information which I had and upon which I acted, and disclose the close, intimate, objectionable and improper surveillance, the details of which are more fully set out in an accompanying affidavit made by the said Walter M. Shea.

"I aver further that the said operations were conducted and the results of the same were reported by the said C. C. Ruddy and G. H. Robbins on one day, whose correct name I am informed is A. Mason Day and who is registered at the Mayflower hotel in Washington, D. C., where also the defendant, Harry F. Sinclair, is registered.

"I further aver that the said reports were at times rendered to the said Day at the home of Donald Woodward, 2118 LeRoy place, Washington, D. C.

"Day 'Contact Man' "I aver that the said Day was what is known as the 'contact' man between the real employer of said Burns Detective Agency in his behalf and the said Ruddy, acting as manager of the operatives in Washington, D. C. It is my belief and I aver that the real employer of said detectives is Harry F. Sinclair, a defendant in this case.

"I have not as yet been able to interview said Woodward and said Day and am therefore unable to state what they will say as to who enlisted their services in this matter.

"I aver that there have been since on or about Oct. 13, 1927, the date on which the jury was sworn in said case, at various times, some or all of 16 detective employees working in Washington as above set forth."

He said the activities of the detectives have been inimical "to the proper administration of justice in this court."

Gloom Chasing Cafe For London LONDON, Nov. 1.—An anti-depression restaurant for women shoppers on foggy days was recently opened by a large Piccadilly department store.

The restaurant, which is at one end of the store to the other, artificial sunlight effects are obtained by the glowing golden walls and ceiling of the lounge.

Beams stretch across the ceiling of the restaurant which is papered in silver. On the walls are full orange and green lights in alabaster globes.

The carpet is yellow with blue "suns" on it, with the chairs and tables of apple green. Shimmering green taffeta curtains give an illusion of leaves and woods outside.

"We wanted something that would cheer up women shoppers on dull, sunless days which are sample of England in any season, one of the directors declared.

realized by the federal government in recent years necessarily mean that there is being taken from taxpayers more than is necessary to meet the current expenses of government," MacColl declared, as chairman of the chamber's taxation committee.

The chamber believes a proper fiscal policy requires that federal revenues and expenditures should be substantially balanced.

This was the first time in recent years the chamber has opposed the Republican plans of tax reduction.

Emergency Before Committee An appeal for reduction of corporation taxes to a level equalizing them with individual income rates was made to the house ways and means committee hearing by James A. Emery, Washington, D. C., representative of the National Association of Manufacturers.

He declared the present 13 1/2 per cent rates on corporation incomes work a general injustice and that reduction of the rates would give the widest social benefits.

Emery urged the committee to build the entire new tax reduction bill now being framed around a reduction in the corporation levy.

RAIN RECORDS ARE SMASHED IN SANTA ANA

some intersections, where dips occur, drivers hit the flood of water driving at a fast pace and water was splashed into carburetors or into the ignition wires and trouble followed.

Investigations in different parts of the county have disclosed that no section suffered damage by the deluge of yesterday and last night—and it was a deluge in all parts of the county, high records being made at all points.

One of the strange features of the general heavy rain was that no large volume of water is flowing in any of the Orange county streams. Water in the Santa Ana river has not reached the Olive bridge today, although it did get down stream as far as the Richfield bridge, near Olive, Santiago, Trabuco, Aliso and San Juan creeks are carrying small volumes.

No Damage to Roads According to Nat H. Neff, superintendent of county highways, no damage has resulted to the paved highways in any part of the county. The moisture precipitated yesterday soaked into the farm lands virtually as fast as it fell. The precipitation was more or less gentle, but was continuous. There were no periods in which the rain fell in torrents.

Dry land farmers smiled today as they accepted the early heavy rainfall as an indication that this is to be a wet season and as they anticipated bumper crops. Citrus farmers are jubilant, too, for they will be relieved of considerable winter irrigation.

Clear Skies, Warm Sun Greet Southland Today

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—Clear skies and a warming sun greeted Southern California today, following yesterday's heavy downpour, which contributed materially to a record breaking October rainfall in this section of the state.

Weather forecasters and agricultural spokesmen are united in the opinion that the steady deluge of yesterday, as well as other minor showers of the month, were of inestimable benefit to crops.

The rain soaked deep into the ground, they said, and was not of a driving kind that would harm unharvested grapes, the cotton crop and other damnable garden, field and orchard produce.

When the final gauge was taken in Los Angeles, yesterday's fall was found to be 1.60 inches, boosting October's total to 2 inches, said to be a record precipitation for the period since 1917 when 2.71 inches fell.

Records of 47 years' standing tumbled in Riverside, where 2.3 inches fell during a 24-hour period, for an October total of 3.54, the largest for the month since 1907. Neighborhood mountains are covered with snow. The entire county reports record falls, with Corona leading for 24 hours with 2.5 inches. It was clear today.

foothill, interior and coast communities took their share of the valuable moisture, the records show.

state, it was pointed out.

In 1920 he carried the primary there for Senator Hiram Johnson, of California, when South Dakota was the only state to declare for Johnson. More recently his power was tested in a state gubernatorial contest in which the opposition was overwhelmingly defeated.

As Norbeck goes, South Dakota goes. Hence, if Norbeck is for Lowden, there is reason to believe South Dakota will send a Lowden delegation to the nominating convention next summer.

Previously only the Republican leaders of Iowa had indicated they would participate as a unit in any Lowden boom. When the Republican national committee met here several weeks ago reports circulated that Lowden was displeased that other states had not swung into the race. Source of the reports could not be traced, but Lowden's friends say they were circulated by his enemies.

Whatever doubt existed concerning Lowden's plans the Norbeck statement has dispelled, men who have followed the situation closely say.

Kansas Republicans For Curtis, Says Capper

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 1.—"Kansas Republicans will back Senator Charles Curtis to the limit for the nomination to the presidency," declared Arthur Capper, junior senator from Kansas and colleague of Curtis, enroute through here last night.

"Senator Curtis is well liked in Washington, where he had many friends in his 30 years' service in congress and the senate," said Capper. "I believe he will have a strong following in the middle western and western states as any of the men yet mentioned in connection with the nomination."

Thinks Kansas City Can Get G. O. P. Convention

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 1.—The Republican national convention for 1928 can be brought to Kansas City if "it goes after it the right way," declared Dr. E. B. Clements, Macon, Mo., Republican national committeeman, here last night.

Clements said that whether or not this city entertains the Republican convention depends largely on how much effort is expended to get it. It is his belief that Kansas City has as good a chance as any other city to get the convention.

Roosevelt Renews Attack On Governor Smith

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Col. Theodore Roosevelt has renewed his attack on Governor Smith in connection with Albany vice and gambling conditions.

When he first voiced the charges at the Republican state convention several weeks ago Colonel Roosevelt reportedly was rebuked by other party leaders, but he amplified his statements in a speech last night under the auspices of the Riverside Republican club.

The Albany Democratic organization, he said, compared with Tammany hall, of which Governor Smith is the "bell wether." Roosevelt named John and Daniel O'Connell, Democratic leaders, as under indictment for running a gambling pool in Albany.

Conditions in the state capital were a matter of public knowledge and newspapers and clergymen had exposed them, he went on, but Governor Smith had taken no action, although he had ordered investigations in Saratoga and other Republican counties.

When told of Roosevelt's speech, Smith said he might reply to it later in the week.

AGRICULTURE STABILIZATION PLAN OFFERED

This farm board plan, Jardine indicated, would be the major farm relief legislation sought by the department in congress this winter.

The board, he said, would be organized to supply farmers with information of supply and demand factors affecting production and marketing and would have control of a revolving fund from which advances could be made to organizations.

Jardine said legislation was needed to aid agriculture. He asserted state legislation affecting local taxation and local banking was quite as essential as national legislation.

National and state legislation, "to help the farmers help themselves by organized effort," should be enacted at once, he said.

Could Have Prevented Crash A cotton stabilization corporation could have prevented the crash of the cotton market last year by buying cotton on the open market until the market price had risen to a conservatively established level, Jardine stated.

Stabilization corporations would have saved cotton growers millions of dollars in 1926, he estimated, adding that such operations were especially adapted to cotton.

"Stabilization of prices would automatically help to stabilize acreage," he explained. "Approximately 88 per cent of the variation in cotton acreage is due to the price the year before. As a result of last year's discouraging prices, cotton acreage was reduced one-eighth this year. Greater stability of acreage will in turn help stabilize prices."

Conference Demands Farm Relief Action

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 1.—Many of the men who have figured prominently in the fight to obtain enactment of federal farm relief legislation met here today and joined in a common demand for favorable action at the next session of congress.

As delegates arrived from 14 middle western and southern wheat and cotton belt states, private conversations drifted inevitably to the approaching presidential campaign, and names of relief champions were frequently mentioned. The meeting obviously was as much political as it was economic.

Indorse Vetted Bill "We should challenge the right of any administration and of any party to proceed further in the industrialization of the nation at the expense of agriculture," said Gov. Adam McMillen, of Nebraska, who indorsed the general features of the vetted McNary-Haugen bill.

United States Senator Arthur Capper, of Kansas, declared farmers "need all the help they can get from Washington," and said:

"I certainly hope the next congress passes the McNary-Haugen bill, or some other equally good farm relief measure that will assist farmers in getting a fair price for their product."

Former Gov. George W. Donaghey, of Arkansas, who called the farm leaders into conference here, made the flat assertion that farm relief in constitutional," and said:

"Either protection must be withdrawn from all industries, or it must be extended to all industries alike. There is no other alternative."

The first session of congress, held in Washington, was in 1800, when the north section of the original capitol was completed.

GEORGE PETERS IS HOME FROM EASTERN TRIP

The thrill of seeing Babe Ruth break his home run record was being told to friends of George E. Peters, cashier of the Bank of Italy today. The banker returned home yesterday from a two months sight-seeing trip throughout the east. Peters spent most of his time in the east attending the big league baseball games. He attended 12 games previous to the World's Series and saw Babe Ruth hit his fifty-eighth, fifty-ninth and sixtieth home runs. He also saw every game of the world's series.

One of the features of the trip according to Peters was his visit to the centenary exposition at Baltimore, Ohio. Here he saw every known method of travel from the beginning of time to the present time.

Peters made the trip a real sight-seeing affair, doing most of his travel during the day time and stopping over in towns at night. During his trip of more than 11,000 miles he spent but seven nights on the train. Before starting east Peters visited Vancouver and took a special trip to Prince Rupert, about 500 miles north of Vancouver. He stopped in Jasper National park, Canada.

He also stopped over in Edmonton, Alberta, Can., Saskatoon, Can., Pittsburgh, Buffalo and spent five days in New York City. He visited Niagara Falls and then returned to Pittsburgh for the first games of the world series. Peters declared that the baseball special train which carried rosters from Pittsburgh to New York was composed of 10 sections of 12 cars to a section. Incidentally Peters was left with tickets to two more world series games.

These tickets, Peters said, were redeemed, Peters said, Peters spent four days more in New York City before starting his return trip.

The Santa Ana banker attended the convention of the Grand Lodge of Kansas Odd Fellows at Wichita, Kan., and the session of the Colorado Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows at Pueblo, on his return trip. He also visited at Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake and Reno, on his return trip.

Three mortgages valued at $13,000 are involved in a petition filed today by C. H. Potts in he asks to be declared the legal owner of the documents as a result of the death of Emma H. Potts, his wife, last December.

Potts declared that the mortgages were signed by his wife and himself jointly and that he is the legal owner of them as a result of his wife's death.

The largest is for $7000, issued by C. S. Ragan and Ida M. Ragan. A balance of $2500 on a $3000 mortgage made by Theodore G. Bratsch and Mattie Bratsch is listed, while a $3000 mortgage made by F. S. Arundell and Nora M. Arundell concludes the list.

When to Suspect Acid Scalp

It isn't age that dulls the hair. Nor frequent washing or curling. If your hair lacks all life and lustre, it may be due to a condition you can correct in twenty-four hours. Acid scalp.

Neutralize the acid secretions of the scalp, and your hair will have the lovely sheen that makes any hair so attractive. A few drops of Danderine will do this; and as its name implies, Danderine is a scientific dandruff dissolver. Five minutes after Danderine is applied, every particle of dandruff has been dissolved!

Acid scalp should be suspected if your hair is at all stiff or stringy, or won't hold a wave. Another sign—not so easily detected in one's self—is an acid odor to the hair when it is warm, or after exercise. And for thirty-five cents at any drugstore, you can get a bottle of Danderine that will keep your hair soft and sweet and "on its good behavior" for weeks!—Adv.

SCHOOL NEWS

FRANCES WILLARD

Willard Welfare Club

The latest meeting of the Willard Welfare club was held on Wednesday, October 26. After a delightful luncheon the girls resumed a spirited study of parliamentary law. Dorothy Dunbar took the chair for the day. The honored guests for the day were Mary Clanton and Georgia Gall Penlock, who were past presidents of the club but are now at high school.

A Correction

In last week's school news a mistake was made in the opera cast. Esther Morgan's name should have been in the place of Mrs. Cassin instead of Esther Hoar as was reported.

Forest Protection

On Thursday, October 27, at a special assembly, Winfred Scott of the United States Forest Protection service, gave an interesting and instructive talk upon the conservation of the forest resources of this country. Mr. Scott pointed out the great necessity for building up the supply of wood, so that future generations might not be deprived of this valuable material. The planting of young trees, to take the place of the great numbers lost annually by cutting and by destructive fires, is a very necessary service. The building of fire-breaks and construction of many signs to warn against fire, are also valuable precautions. Mr. Scott illustrated his talk with many beautiful slides, showing the work which is now being carried on in the line of forest conservation.

Better Speech Week

Plans are under way by the English department for recognition of Better Speech week which will be observed November 7 to 11. A contest is being arranged for the purpose of stimulating better speech among the pupils of Willard school. More definite plans will be given later.

Hallowe'en Party

Norma Sifton and Velda Fraser entertained the members of their class, the 6bs, at a delightfully planned Hallowe'en party last Friday night at the Fraser home on Grand avenue. Clever costumes concealed the identity of the guests until after a guessing contest, when for the ones who conceived their identity longest.

The hostesses had carefully planned a variety of interesting games for the occasion. Fortune telling was among the most popular entertainments.

Later in the evening appropriate refreshments were served on individual trays. Mrs. T. E. Sifton, Mrs. Wayne Nelson and Mrs. R. Fraser assisted the girls in making the party such a success.

Exhibit Case

Miss Libby arranged a very attractive exhibit last week of the designs from her 7th grade class in drawing. All the designs were original and very colorful, making a splendid effect for exhibition.

Girl Reserves Meeting

The members of the Girl Reserves met last Monday at the Y. W. C. A. with Miss McPeak. The following officers were elected: President, Mable Johnston; vice president, Evelyn Adams; secretary, Flora Park. The girls discussed the plans for a membership campaign which will be started right away. It was decided to meet at the Y. W. C. A. every Monday afternoon at 3:45.

Weekly Meetings

Room 12 in the main building has been fitted up with table and chairs for the purpose of a meeting room of the various school officers. The regular meetings are as follows during the home room period. Monday—Boys' executive committee meets in Room 12 with Mr. Read; girls' executive committee meets in Room 4 with Mrs. Thatcher. Tuesday—Boys' safety committee with Mr. Read in Room 12; girls' safety committee with Mrs. Thatcher in Room 4.

Wednesday—First and third of each month, honor society meets in room with Mrs. Thatcher. Thursday—Reserved for class meetings. Friday—Boys' safety committee with Mr. Read in Room 12.

On Friday afternoons during the fifth period the weekly student assembly programs are given in the assembly hall.

6b Class Assembly

The 6b class, under the direction of Miss Biggin, had charge of the regular student assembly last Friday. Allene Lair, former student at Willard, had charge of the first part of the program. She played several delightful piano solos, and Miss Eleanor Salisbury, mezzo-soprano, sang several songs, accompanied by Miss Lair.

"A Visit to a Japanese Home" was given by the following girls: Reiko and Nobuko Kadawaki, who were dressed in Japanese costumes, as hostesses; Florence Sturbaum, Jessie Warburton and Norma Sifton as the American visitors who were entertained at tea in the Japanese home.

Roosevelt

On Friday all of Miss Walker's classes met in the dark room where they enjoyed a wonderful art appreciation lesson. The 50 sides consisted of world masterpieces of art, from the early pictures to those of the present day, and also pictures of famous musicians, and scenes from several operas. The children were as delighted over the little talk Miss

Walker had prepared for them, as with the beautifully colored pictures that were thrown on the screen.

October Assembly

Miss Campbell had charge of the assembly given in honor of Roosevelt's birthday. Dick Horton announced the idea of the program. After "America" was sung by the whole school, five little first graders recited a short poem, "Mr. Roosevelt," written for them by their teacher, Miss Campbell. The children were Dick Horton, Betty Jo Willets, Marion Duncan, Frank Was and Virginia Wilson. The next number was a song, "Old Glory," sung by the second grade, and followed by a song, "All allegiance to the Flag," by the same class, while James Rachels held the flag.

The Rev. Mr. McFarland, introduced to the children by Miss Campbell, spoke on the interesting facts of Roosevelt's life. The program was closed with the safety committee awards.

Safety Committee

The children in each classroom above the second grade elected a boy and girl to be members of the safety committee, and two others to serve as alternates. The safety committee has just been organized by Miss Wells, the principal of the school. The children elected were: Third grade, Ann Woodworth and Thelma Stewart; alternates, Frances McWaters and Bobby Borgwardt. Fourth grade, Marion Brannon and Robert Forney; alternates, Josephine Keeler and Mac Beall; fifth grade, Lenore McFarren and James McWaters; alternates, Gwendolyn Griffin and Matt Brown.

Low sixth grade, Evelyn Brannon and Dale Smith; alternates, Jean McAuley and Shelly Horton; high fifth and low sixth, Frances Wade and Don Boyd; alternates, Eloise Bradley and Frank Pope. The patrolmen are Robert Pico Claude Gregory, John Ramirez and Heymen Brown.

JULIA LATHROP

Miss Corson and her classes in room 4 are indebted to Gilmer Lamb of the 8L class of Julia Lathrop school, for the bulletin board which he made for the room under the direction of Mr. Rowley. On it are specimens of good class work, pictures of people being studied, etc. Mrs. Corson's home class has also a very pretty shield with the class numerals which was made for them in the shop.

Show Case Display

The exhibit in the show case this week is the work of the beginning sewing class, the low eighth grade girls. They have completed the work on the hand towels, on which the girls have learned two kinds of bastings, even and uneven. One end of the towel is hemmed with the slanting stitch and the other with the straight stitch. Overhanding was used for sewing the selvedge ends of hem together. The white cooking aprons gave the girls the problem of French seaming. The 8th grade girls are now starting their third problem, a princess slip or a simple dress. Interest grows with each new problem. The ninth grade girls are just finishing their first problem, a choice of making a nightgown, kimono or simple dress.

Spelling Class

The low 8 class in spelling is very proud of its penmanship. Miss Wherry, the writing supervisor, chose a set of spelling papers which have been placed on the bulletin board in the rotunda. Olive Dawn and Faye Mahaffey have written interesting original poems in their 8H English class.

Courtesy Drive

The results of the courtesy drive which was conducted last week, are as follows: Section 12, 79 per cent; section 7, 72 per cent; section 13, 72 per cent. The winning classes were high 9—69 per cent (tags returned); high 8—83 per cent. The girls returned the largest number of tags having returned 239, while the boys returned 210.

There was much competition among the classes, before the banquet, as a framed picture was offered as a prize to the class which sold the most tickets. Three black cats were placed on wires in the rotunda, and as one class sold tickets the cat was moved ahead for that class.

Mrs. Weber and her committee worked very hard on the Girls-Fathers banquet. Those who assisted her were Mrs. Norwood, Mrs. Sinke, Miss Foster, Mrs. Corson, Miss Plavan, Justice, Jones, Zolman, Cornell and Mrs. Wolfe. The banquet was held Friday, at 6:30 p. m., at the Y. M. C. A. After a delicious chicken dinner the following program was given: A toast, "Welcome," Virginia Hershiser, president of Every Girl's club; response, Dorothy Thorpe and Reva Duthridge; toast, "Our Girls," R. R. Lutes; vocal solo, Beryl Ludlow; toast, "Our Fathers," Mr. Cranston; reading, Grace Wooster; health skit, a group of girls, guitar solo, Geneva Scotton; pantomime, a group of girls.

The program closed with community singing and every one voted the banquet a great success.

EDISON

It's pupils are very proud of Edison school. It was the first school in the city to have 100 per cent in giving money to the Community Chest.

Eda Harkoff.

Two members of the sixth grade of Edison school moved away. The class gave them a farewell party. Candy, cake and punch were served. Every one misses Olive Herman and Eleanor Senn.

Edwin Jones.

The fifth grade is planning a Hallowe'en party. It is being kept a secret. We are inviting the teachers. We expect it to be a jolly surprise.

DENIES MOTION FOR ORDER TO HALT MARRIAGE

Probably the last echo of the recent re-marriage of a Gardena couple, at which alienists established the sanity of the bride and thereby prevented an adopted daughter from gaining control of a $200,000 estate, was heard today when J. M. Backs county clerk, announced that an attempt to have a permanent injunction against the issuing of a license for the pair, failed in the Los Angeles Superior court yesterday.

Mrs. Margery Wyath, of Los Angeles, the daughter, had secured a temporary restraining order against the issuing of the license for William Watts, 64, and Clara Watts, 48. Backs issued it, however, on the ground that the Los Angeles county clerk could not restrain an Orange county public official. Yesterday's session before Superior Judge Gates, of Los Angeles, resulted in a denial of the motion to make the order permanent.

Chief Deputy District Attorney Lew Blodgett represented Backs and moved for a denial when the attorneys for Mrs. Wyath failed to appear. The motion was granted and Blodgett declared today that the affair is closed. He stated that even if the injunction had been issued, the second marriage of the Gardena pair would not have been affected.

William Watts, 64, and Clara E. Watts, 48, were first married and attempted to have the wedding annulled and her mother declared incompetent. Both moves have resulted in failure. Watts declared when the license for the second marriage was issued last week that the daughter's sole aim was to secure her mother's $200,000 estate.

At the second marriage two Los Angeles physicians testified that Mrs. Watts is sane. Backs before issuing the license, talked to Mrs. Watts and announced that in his opinion she is perfectly normal.

NO SANTA CLAUS

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Mary Kennedy was working in her kitchen when she heard a faint call for help. For a long time she couldn't locate the sound, although she recognized it as the voice of her 11-year-old son, Eugene. Finally she traced it to the wall just behind the kitchen stove, and called firemen. They tore out the wall and rescued Eugene from where he had fallen through the chimney from the roof. An ambulance surgeon examined him and said, "All he needs is a bath."

TOO MANY LAWS

MOBILE, Ala., Nov. 1.—When Judge Robert S. Hall made his address at the opening of circuit court, he declared that there are at present 1,900,000 laws in the United States, 93,000 of which were placed on the statutes last year. "The reason for the non-enforcement of so many laws," he said, "is because 75 per cent of the people do not want them enforced."

SWEET FIELDS

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—It won't be long now until the winds across the farmlands will bear a refreshing aroma like a newly-opened can of cocoa. Cocoa meal has proven itself an excellent fertilizer and may be produced cheaply and in great quantities. The meal contains about 4 per cent nitrogen and the shell 3 per cent.

very proud of their new room. It is such a nice room for music and art. Mrs. Hughes is the teacher.

Margaret Frank.

In Mrs. Maddock's room the classes have arithmetic ball games on Friday. It is lots of fun.

Harold Roy Boyd.

The pupils of Santa Ana are very much interested in nature study. They are collecting all sorts of insects such as butterflies, moths and dragon flies.

June Weiland.

Two boys of Edison school found a sparrow out in the yard and brought it into the school room. The nature study classes are taking care of it.

Outfall Sewer Boards to Meet

A called meeting of the joint outfall sewer boards will be held Wednesday, November 9, at 7:30 p. m., at the city council chambers, Anaheim, it was announced today by F. L. Purinton, chairman of the joint board.

The joint meeting will be held in lieu of the meeting of the executive committee of the group scheduled to have been held this week.

Matters pertaining to the joint operation of the cities, and sanitary districts of the outfall sewer will come up for discussion.

WAR VETERAN IS FREED ON CHECK CHARGE

Two charges of passing worthless checks were dismissed against Stanley K. Chacksfield, Corona, disabled veteran of the World war, in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court today and he was given a suspended sentence on a third charge, that of petty theft.

Information obtained by the district attorney's office was to the effect that the man was a 75 per cent disabled veteran, well educated, and that he on one occasion before had been declared irresponsible.

One of the checks for $40, was passed to the Acme Motor company of Santa Ana and the other, a check for $25, was passed at an Orange bank.

The charge of petty theft was in connection with a washing machine he took, it was said.

FUR DUET

A fur coat is smart but a coat of two furs is smarter. A stunning model in seal uses beaver for huge shawl collar and barrel cuffs nearly to the shoulder.

COURT IS TOO BUSY TO ACT AS ACCOUNTANT

That the superior court is too busy to act as an accountant was decided yesterday by Judge James L. Allen when rival attorneys in a damage suit concerning two water wells presented an array of figures too complicated to be clear. Drilling on one well at so much per hour, repairs on another at a still different figure, together with numerous other items, brought the affair into a tangle.

Today Clyde Downing, Santa Ana attorney, was appointed as referee to get the accounts into such shape that the situation will be cleared up.

The controversy arose over the assertion of Jessie Lee Toler, of La Habra, that Gordon and Charles Saunders, of Whittier, had told her that her old well was dry and useless, thereby inducing her to allow them to drill a new one in which they could install their special type of pump.

Later, however, she declared that she found her old well able to produce plenty of water. She renounced her contract for drilling the new hole, which had not been completed. She asked $3900 damages resulting from the supposed lack of water for her 42 acre orange grove while drilling was in progress and for other asserted damage to her land.

The Saunders brothers, who originally filed action, are attempting to gain judgment for $3040.15 as a result of repairing the old well and drilling the new one to a depth of 92 feet. The defendant, however, claims that the 92 foot hole is of no value.

CONTRACTS LET FOR 15 MIDWAY CITY DWELLINGS

MIDWAY CITY, Nov. 1.—Contracts for some 15 houses have been let within the past few days, it was announced here today.

T. E. Coverdale, of Long Beach, who has two houses under construction at Midway City, has let contracts for four additional homes, it is reported.

Harper and Sumpter, subdividers, have let contracts for four dwellings, three of which have been sold.

W. E. Place, who has erected a number of homes at Midway City, plans to start construction at once on several homes.

In the Pacific Southwest poultry farms, new residences are planned for Mr. and Mrs. George Roseman, of Comita; Miss Emma Shaffer, of Santa Ana; and Mr. and Mrs. Broyle, of Orange.

George Waterer started construction last week on a home on Jackson street in the poultry farms district.

Among new residents of the tract are Mr. and Mrs. Lester E. Roney, of Seal Beach; Mr. and Mrs. James Rabinet, of Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Kirkham, of Bellflower; S. D. Leonard Ogilvie, of Compton.

The R. R. Coase and Emmett Holly homes will be completed by November 12.

BREA OIL WELL FLOWS 350 BBLs.

BREA, Nov. 1.—The Brea Canyon Oil company has brought in a good well in Brea canyon, getting an initial production of about 350 barrels a day out of its No. 42 well, according to field reports. The well was drilled to 4900 feet and is now flowing clean oil, it is said.

Praises Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Because It Gave Her Health and Strength

In a sunny pasture in Oklahoma, a herd of sleek cows was grazing.

They made a pretty picture.

But the thin woman in the blue checked apron sighed as she looked at them.

She was tired of cows, tired of her tedious work in the dairy. She was tired of cooking for a household of boarders, besides.

Two Permits For H. B. Oil Rigs Issued

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 1.—Permits have been issued at the city hall for two new oil rigs. The H. & P. oil company, with offices at 1208 Pacific Southwest building, Long Beach, took out one permit and the other was taken out by the Pacific Coast Oil company. The first permit was for a derrick at Eleventh and Walnut streets and the second permit was for a rig at Thirteenth and Walnut streets.

DRIVES AUTO ON PIER; DRAWS FINE

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Nov. 1.—Judge Pann dealt out a couple of jail sentences Monday morning and assessed several fines for infractions of the law.

O. C. Pettybone, 29, of Los Angeles, drew $250 and five days for reckless driving. Officers Mohr and Choat arrested the man when he attempted to drive onto the Huntington Beach pier Sunday.

The jail sentence was suspended and Pettybone placed on probation for a period of one year.

Frank Gravage, 29, a resident of Huntington Beach, drew the same penalty as Pettybone but was not suspended. The charge was the same as in the above case. Officers John Stanton and Fred Ott made the arrest.

Frankie Bolet, a prize fighter from Long Beach, drew a $25 fine for intoxication, as did W. M. C. Wood, of Santa Ana, and F. S. Hagarty, of Los Angeles.

BUILDING IN FULLERTON AT HIGH FIGURE

FULLERTON, Nov. 1.—Another banner month has been recorded in Fullerton in the way of building activities with the check-up revealing that building permits totaled $83,160 for the past month. This total is greatly in excess of the month of September, 1926, when the total was $66,597. The largest permit for the past month was for the Young apartment house, which is valued at $50,000.

The total for the year to date is $740,280, a great increase over the same number of months of last year, when the amount was $411,657. The total for the entire year 1926 was $496,961.

The month of September of this year showed a total valuation in building of $56,120.

BEGIN ON L. B. ART GALLERY IN JANUARY

LAGUNA BEACH, Nov. 1.—The Laguna Beach Art association hopes to start building its $35,000 art gallery early in January, it was announced today. Plans for the structure have already been prepared.

William Wendt, famous Laguna Beach artist, who has been in Europe, is expected home soon. Wendt's efforts are expected to place the art association's fund over the top, the organization lacking but a few thousands to complete the fund.

Buena Park Church Is Offered Aid

BUENA PARK, Nov. 1.—The committee working to raise funds for the erection of a Congregational church in Buena Park has received an offer of aid from national headquarters, it was announced today by Fred Bastady, chairman of the committee. The group has raised $9,000 to date and workers are meeting with encouragement in their canvass, Bastady said.

CITRUS PLANT'S BOOKS ARE CLOSED

YORBA LINDA, Nov. 1.—Books of the Yorba Linda Citrus association have been closed for this year, Manager P. W. Damon announced today. Only a few cars of valencias remain to be sold and they are on the way to markets. The orange and lemon prospects next year are good, according to A. Schall, picking foreman, who states that the citrus generally will be smaller next year. Lemons look exceptionally promising and a large crop of this fruit is seen next season.

Charter Of First Women's Club Is Found With Flask

VERNON, Ind., Nov. 1.—This sleepy, old-fashioned village boasts the distinction of having founded America's first Women's club. Although the organization had long been forgotten, a copy of its constitution was found reposing between a quart whisky bottle and a Bible in the corner stone of the Old Vernon high school when the building was torn down recently.

The club bore the flowery title of Clonian society, and was organized July 17, 1855, according to its yellowed constitution. Its object was set out as "the moral improvements of its young lady members and the advancement of their intellectual faculties."

The objects found in the old cornerstone were carefully preserved, the authenticity of the Clonian constitution newly attested, and all were placed in the corner stone of the new Vernon high school which has since been erected on the site of the old "academy."

Findings of the papers defeats the claim of the Minerva society of New Harmony, Ind., to the title of America's oldest women's club. The Minerva was organized in 1859, nine years before the famous Sorosis society of New York, which also ranks among the first of the present army of women's social bodies.

The Minerva club, however, was the first body if its kind to be incorporated, and is still functioning.

Winston Churchill, chancellor of the exchequer, estimated the tax would yield $2,000,000 ($300,000,000 per annum. For the first half-year, tax produced $1,575,800 ($6,885,000). As the heaviest wage-earning tax place from June to November, it is estimated that approximately $4,000,000 ($20,000,000) will be the first year's total. Dog racing, which boomed during the summer months contributed at least $500,000 ($2,500,000) to this figure.

In its present form, the tax in turnover is unpopular with all classes interested in horse racing. Racetrack executives claim a steady decline in receipts since its introduction. They maintain that compared with those of 1925, a normal year, attendances during 1927 show a decline of from 12 to 15 per cent, and blame the betting tax as the chief offender.

The bookmakers maintain that deplorable conditions have arisen out of the tax on betting. They point out that they have found no way of passing the tax on to the bettor. As the law stands the bookmakers must pay 3 1/2 per cent on the stakes of all bets made, but there is nothing laid down in the act as to the collecting of the tax from any third party.

Blister Rust Is Feared By Idaho

UNIVERSITY OF IDAHO, MOSCOW, Nov. 1.—Discovery this month of white pine blister rust near Colville, Wash., is important, directly or indirectly, to all residents of Idaho. The appearance of rust at this point, 50 miles below the Canadian border and about the same distance from the Idaho line, brings the great timber region of Eastern Washington, Northern Idaho and Western Montana squarely face to face with one of its greatest enemies. Approximately 22,000 board feet of white pine, valued at $165,000,000, is involved.

Little surprise would now be occasioned at the finding of the disease in Idaho forests. Its presence at Colville indicates that the winds and weather this season have been very favorable to its spread.

The nemesis of the white pine has never before appeared in this section south of British Columbia and east of Central Washington. Its ultimate arrival has been anticipated, but it was not expected to come so soon. From this time on the fight to save the $165,000,000 worth of white pine in the section of which northern Idaho is the center, must become an intensive battle. Blister rust may be successfully combated, but it is a hard opponent.

Since the disease is not transmitted from pine tree to pine trees, but requires wild and cultivated currants or gooseberries as an intermediate host, the control work is centered on eradication of these plants. The rust fungus causing the disease attacks no other plants. It is carried by winds to the berry bushes.

OSAKA, Nov. 1.—Tokusichichi Nomura, multi-millionaire Osaka industrialist, has decided to donate yen 1,000,000 upwards of $50,000 (gold dollars) to the municipality to be used for "development of the city" says the Osaka Mainichi, adding that the money may be used for founding of a municipal institute.

FOLKSTONE, Nov. 1.—H. R. H. The Prince of Wales had a contest with harbor officials here in which honors were more or less divided.

The prince, watching an incoming channel steamer, stood too near the passport barrier, and immediately was ordered back by naval officials on duty there.

"All right," he said, and moved away. He was, however, recognized by another official, and matters speedily put right.

The House of Nuthalls

You're going to hear about the Nuthalls of England ever so often in tennis chatter during the next few years. Not only plenty about Betty, already one of the best woman players in the world, but also about Molly and Pat when they get a bit bigger and older. The three youngsters are excellent players now, Britishers claim. The Nuthalls pictured here are Molly, Betty, Thelma and Pat, reading left to right.

SPORTSLATER

BY FRANK GETTY
UNITED PRESS STAFF EDITOR

Tex Rickard, the old "I Can Culliver" man, is not particularly enthused over Gene Tunney's proposal to defend the heavyweight championship in two outdoor fights during 1928.

The promoter is of the opinion that a year is quite often enough for heavyweight championship fights.

"It takes six months to get ready for one of them affairs," said Tex the other day.

If Rickard really intends to build a suitable outdoor arena in the vicinity of New York City, it is doubtful that Gene Tunney will do no fighting before September. The arena didn't get finished before that time.

Gene sent word to me last night that he would like two outdoor bouts in defense of his title. He would like July 4 and the latter part of September.

Yes, anxious reader, he comes up winning the first one—and says it won't be a long count, etc.

But Tex Rickard will not put money to fight elsewhere than in the largest available arena, and it is likely that the champion will spend a Safe and Sound Fight.

It would be entirely against promoter's business principles to risk holding a heavyweight championship fight in a ball park or other limited area in July, with the heat and preparing a bigger and better arena for a second title couple of months later.

Now, my, Pauline! For one thing, Gene Tunney is in the resin a second or two too long this time, in which case, however, most certainly would take it on the lam for the neaudeville agency—and where would the SECOND of the summer championship fights be then?

No, Rickard is right. Once is at least often enough to watch Gene Tunney defend his championship.

It is interesting to learn that Heeney considers Tom Heeney, the rugged New Zealand, best heavyweight contender next to Dempsey.

Tom is a stout fellow. Weigh him in action against Jack Sharkey a fortnight hence, and you will know more about his championship qualifications.

For one reason, if for no other, would like to see Heeney win his way through the elimination test and face Tunney in a battle for the heavyweight championship.

The reason is Charley Heeney's manager, chief second, booster and pal, Charley is one of the few lovable characters in the fight racket, a man who makes a living with some of the inner workings of the business a little pleasant.

It would be great if Charley came into some of the big money. He deserves it.

DONS MEET PASADENA SATURDAY

Touted Orange Eleven Next Poly Foe

OLIVER INTENDS TO USE SECOND STRING FRIDAY

Neighbors Have Splendid Record This Season; Would Add S. A. to List

By GRIDDER
Every now and then some two-fisted little cuss comes into a neighborhood and starts tongues wagging about his physical prowess and then all the clowns aren't satisfied until he chooses the bully of the lot and either flops the big guy or himself takes a couple on the chin, folds up his tent and steals away.

Santa Ana is not really in the bully class any more. It got wise to itself several years ago and got in a league where it belonged but the smaller fry still persist in annoying the big fellow every time they develop a first class football team. Orange believes it has that kind of a ball club this time.

The English instructors down at Poly will give us a "G" on that horrible simile but the situation will be something like that Friday when Coach Stewart White brings his Orange eleven to Poly field to find out whether it is in a class with "Tex" Oliver's vastly improved Santa Ana club.

Neighbors Steamed Up
The Orangemen have disposed of all their opposition this fall so handily that they have the neighboring community's moleskin rendingous all steamed up and talking championship. Victory or defeat from Santa Ana won't make an iota of difference to either school as far as their standings are concerned, but there will be a hot time in Orange next Friday night if White's band lick the Oliver troops.

"Tex" Oliver has intimated that he will try to get by with his reserves in the twist. Scheduled to meet such nice little playfellows as Pasadena, Alhambra and San Diego in the subsequent three weeks, he would like to save as much as possible the men on whom the bulk of the labor in these games will fall.

But Oliver received his training under Uncle Sam at West Point and army men hate to lose in war or play and if Orange begins running amuck through Poly's second string, don't ever think the so-called first team won't be there.

Blakeney to Lead Team
Captain Jack Blakeney, who in his injured condition has had real fight on his hands maintaining a varsity berth from Bill Dugger, Dud Shaw, Melvin Beatty and Jimmy Musick, will lead the Santa Ana eleven on the field in all probability and is likely to call the signals. Little Claude Williams, the squad's leading defensive back, will be in there and the other two probably will be "pony halfbacks," Wylie Carlyle and Johnny Keeler.

Nobody knows how Oliver will send them out but it may be Eric Twist as center, Richard Pearce and Gene Olsen at guards, "Stew" Derickson and Cliff Belding at tackles and George Berry and Ray Lancaster at ends.

Orange will play its cards to win and White, who hasn't had to show anything against his conference opponents yet, will come here prepared to use everything in the way of plays that his boys have assimilated. Maybe they have enough to lick the daylight out of Oliver's first string. Maybe they haven't enough to bother "Tex's" seconds. Quo vadis? That is what makes that Friday assignment one of the most pleasant of the season.

Godfrey Kayoes Sayers in First

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 1.—George Godfrey, 297, Leipsville, Pa., knocked out Tom Sayers, 209, Detroit, in the first round here last night. Roberto Roberto 229, Italy, won by a knockout over Ralph Smith, 226, California, when Smith failed to answer the bell at the beginning of the third round.

Nationalista To Box Mike O'Dowd

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—Young Nationalista, 22-year-old Filipino veteran of 284 ring battles, and Midget Mike O'Dowd, at 125 pounds, and Jackie Dugan and Dario Brown, share the spotlight tonight in feature 10-round bouts at the Olympic auditorium.

PIPING 'EM OFF

CLAREMONT, Cal.—Coach Eugene Nixon, of Pomona college, is delighting his players and the west as he believes that efficient substitutes will be a big factor in the clash Saturday with U. C. A. for the leadership of the Southern California conference. With the exception of Clarence Bishop, and all the regulars came out of the San Diego battle in good shape.

LOS ANGELES—Joe Fleming, half-back, who is counted as the ace in the hole of the University of California at Los Angeles when the Bruins meet Pomona next Saturday, was at his position for the first time since the Occidental game last practice yesterday. Joe's son, giant tackle, however, was kept from the field with injuries.

CHICAGO—Coach Stagg played today to scrimmage his University of Chicago eleven against the freshmen who have been taught Michigan plays. The veteran mentor cheered his charges for their stand against Ohio State last Saturday.

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—Scrimmage against a freshman team using Minnesota plays was the order of the Notre Dame football camp this week. All of Coach Rockne's regulars will be in shape for the Gopher game.

WEST POINT—Army's football team took the day off yesterday. A heavy workout was scheduled for today.

ANNAPOLIS—Navy went for a hike yesterday and heard not a word about football. Regular practices for the West Virginia Wesleyan game will start today.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Not one Harvard player is expected to be out of the Pennsylvania game Saturday from injuries. Practice and they hoped to have very many in shape.

PALO ALTO—Thirty Stanford Cardinals will leave here tomorrow for Seattle to test the mettle of the Washington Huskies. Washington remains the only larger conference team that has yet neither been tied nor defeated.

OAKLAND—St. Mary's gridgliders are preparing this week for their clash yesterday at San Francisco with the University of Idaho. The Gaels still have a heavy injury list.

BERKELEY—Second string California Bears are scheduled to see action Saturday here against Montana while Coach "Nim" Price conducts his first varsity for use the following week against Washington.

U.S. PRO TOURNEY GOLFERS IN ACTION

CECILIA CREST COUNTRY CLUB, DALLAS, TEX., NOV. 1.

With the nerve-racking ordeal of qualifying for match play completed, 32 of the nation's leading professional golfers began a long trek over Cedar Crest Country club course today in an effort to unseat the king from his throne.

Walter Hagen, the champion, gave warning yesterday, however, that it will be no small task to wrest from him the title he has held for three successive years and four times during the 12 years existence of the National Professional Golf association.

"The Heat" fairly burned the concrete on his final 35 holes of the qualifying play and proved the only contender to beat the standard of the links—"Old Man Par."

WALKER, McTIGUE COLLIDE TONIGHT

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—Mickey Walker, world's middleweight champion, tonight goes out of his class to meet Mike McTigue, former light heavyweight titleholder, in a bout which will settle nothing in particular, but promises to be one of Chicago's most colorful fistie attractions.

No title will be at stake and the men will box at catchweights. For Walker the fight will furnish an indication of what he may expect if he carries through his contemplated task of becoming a light heavyweight.

For McTigue it will be just another chance to make some money.

Spider Kelly Of Ring Fame Dead

ROCHESTER, Minn., Nov. 1.—"Spider" Kelly, of San Francisco, retired fighter, died at Mayo Brothers' hospital here early today, following an operation for removal of a mastoid. He was 53 years old and retired from the ring 27 years ago, making his home on the west coast.

Kelly, whose real name was James Patrick Curtin, was a native of Ireland. He gained national fame in his fight with Joe Gans in New York City, which went 25 rounds and in which the judges gave Kelly the edge in 17 rounds.

SCRIBE BOOMS HUDKINS OUTFIGHTS GAME BETWEEN BOXING UNLESS OLD ELL. IRISH HE WINS TITLE

BY FRANK GETTY
(United Press Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Some day it may be possible to work out more elastic college football schedules with an opportunity for opponents. In this way leading elevens could be brought together towards the close of each season.

At present the Tournament of Roses game, played at Pasadena each New Year's day is the only college gridiron contest in which the opposing elevens are not named at least a year in advance.

It is a pity, for instance, that this year's Yale team cannot meet Notre Dame.

Advantages Obvious
The advantages of a somewhat elastic schedule must be obvious to every football fan. Unfortunately, at the moment the disadvantages are obvious to every football manager, and there the matter rests.

A game between Tad Jones' present Yale team and the one coached by Knute Rockne at Notre Dame would bring together two of the smartest, most alert elevens now playing football.

All the teams in the east, Yale has the only one which appears capable of extending the Irish. Knute Rockne, who is pointing his eleven toward a mythical national championship, with such dangerous reefs as Minnesota, Army and Southern California to be negotiated, would like to meet Yale. He didn't know it before the Dartmouth game last Saturday, but he knows it now.

Proud of Irish Team
Out in South Bend they are proud of Rockne's eleven, particularly of this year's team. They want them to meet and beat the best available opponent from each section.

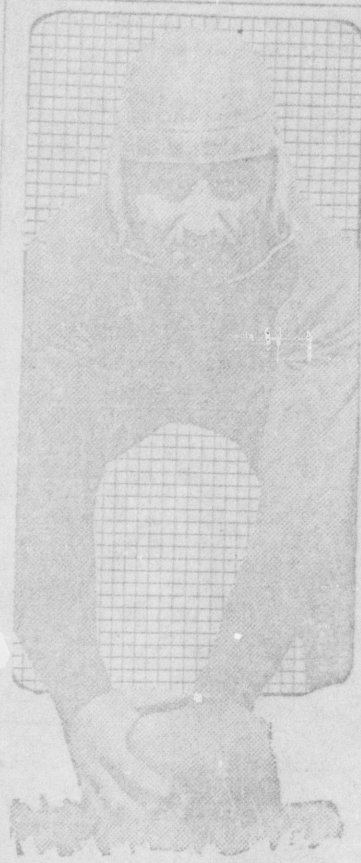

Yale and Notre Dame would be more closely matched than most football fans can appreciate. Tad Jones' eleven, has turned out to be the brainiest team, if not the best, of his long regime as head coach at New Haven.

The Irish, of course, need no analysis. The manner of their success makes the team's power self evident. Knute Rockne thinks it is as good a team as he ever has developed.

LOCAL COLLEGE FACES CRUCIAL GRIDIRON TEST

Victory Over Crown City Eleven Would Put S. A. Men Near Top of List

Sunshine's return today meant just another day's grind for Santa Ana's sensational junior college football team which began intensive drill for one of the most important contests on its 1927 schedule—that at Poly field here Saturday afternoon with Pasadena junior college, present champion of the Southern California "Jaycee" conference.

This crucial conflict should definitely establish the ranking of Coach Bill Cook's colorful machine which is making the strongest bid for conference recognition of any eleven in local collegiate annals. Pasadena completed its season undefeated last fall and has only one blemish on its record so far this year, a reversal by a one-touchdown margin at the hands of San Bernardino. Pasadena has arranged a trip to Honolulu for next month and hopes to make the voyage billed as junior college champion of the Southland.

Santa Ana's only conference setback was an unexpected one, Fullerton unceremoniously whipping Cook's men, 6 to 0. The Dons have been coming along so since that reversal that they are conceded a good chance completing the remainder of the schedule undefeated. Cook has gladiators playing smart, aggressive football and their offensive is better than any local college eleven has shown here in recent years.

"Snowy" Beatty, a real triple threat man and the Dons' best offensive bet, resumed hard practice today and will be in the starting lineup after a two week's layoff with leg injuries. Bill Luck, another backfield star, may not be able to go Saturday because of his broken collar-bone but all of the other crumples, including Luke Davis and Roscoe Bradberry the erstwhile Huntington Beach prep stars, will be available, Cook believes.

The Pasadena Joust will be the first of three "big shots" for the Dons who are booked to meet on succeeding Saturdays Pasadena, San Bernardino and Compton, the three most dangerous elevens in the conference.

SECTION TWO

SIX DIVORCES GRANTED HERE IN TWO DAYS

Six divorce decrees were granted on Friday and Saturday of last week, a check at the courthouse revealed today, three of which were for couples who had been married for less than a year when a separation took place. One pair lived together for two days and decided to call it off, while another stuck it out for seven months.

Separate maintenance was granted to one wife whose husband is said to have deserted her after married life had continued for 13 days. Warren Wilcox, the defendant, claims that he never lived with his wife, Helen A. Wilcox, after they were married last February. Mrs. Wilcox was granted $35 a month separate maintenance.

Mrs. Stella B. Brown was given a final decree of divorce from James R. Brown, following her assertion that he left her two days after they were married, July 2, 1924. The separation was granted, like two others, by default.

Mrs. Phyllis M. Riley secured an interlocutory decree from Vernon R. Riley of Santa Ana. Mrs. Riley asserted that her husband had never contributed more than one pair of stockings to her wardrobe and that he had told her to go and live with her mother.

Mrs. Marnie Moberly has the custody of her child and an interlocutory decree of divorce from Nelson Moberly. Mrs. Moberly declared that her husband was drunk on the night of the child's birth and appeared before her and her friends under the influence of liquor.

Mrs. Mary Kim won an interlocutory decree by default from G. S. Kim and also secured the custody of three children. She charged her husband with failure to provide for his family.

Cornelius C. Collins was the only man to be awarded legal separation and was given his decree on the ground of desertion. He alleged that Mrs. Minnie Collins left him less than six months after they were married.

TRACE ALPHABET TO CAVE

In a cave in the Mount Serabit district of Biblical Egypt, Professors R. P. Blake (left) and Kieropp Lake, of the Harvard expedition, found the famous Serabit inscriptions now believed to be the missing link in the evolution of the alphabet. Some scholars are of the opinion that the inscriptions contain a message written by Moses to the daughter of a Pharaoh. The professors are shown at the mouth of the cave where the inscriptions were found.

COUNCIL PLANS FOR WIDENING FIRST STREET

Widening of East First street to 80 feet east from Main street to the city limits, and establishment of a set back line on West First street from Main street west to the city limits so that West First street at some future date may be widened to 80 feet is one of the big projects the city council has mapped out for the city.

Acting on recommendations of the city planning commission, the council last night directed the city attorney and city engineer to begin the preparation of plans that finally will effect accomplishment of the project.

Widening of East First long has been under consideration and petitions have been presented asking for action that would broaden the thoroughfare.

Completion a few months ago of the broadening of the street east from the city limits to Trestle east from the city limits has impressed on the council and the public generally the necessity for the widening of the street in the city limits.

Approximately two years ago the council directed establishment of a set back line on East First in anticipation of action within two years in forcing the widening of the thoroughfare, but it has developed that the set back line never was definitely established.

It is proposed to make the traveled width of the street 55 feet to conform to the highway outside the city limits. The present street is 60 feet wide with pavement width of 40 feet. It will be necessary to take 10 feet off the front of properties on each side of the street. In order to perfect the 80-foot avenue.

FIGURES IN ALABAMA FLOGGING PROBE

Following the flogging of Mrs. Fannie Clements Daniel (right), an investigation into alleged Klan outrages in Alabama is being directed by Governor Bibbs Graves (upper left). Attorney General C. C. McCall (lower left) is conducting the inquiry. James Esdale (center) is grand dragon of the Klan in Alabama and has twice testified. Thirty-five have been indicted in Crenshaw county, where Mrs. Daniel was beaten.

SUBWAY UNDER R. R. CROSSINGS HERE PROBABLE

Suggested and discussed twenty-five years ago, and resuggested and re-discussed many times since, the construction of a subway under the tracks of the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe railway lines today seemed a possible accomplishment of the near future, following action of the city council last night in granting the petition of property owners in a proposed district for the creation of an assessment district to finance the project.

The petition was filed some weeks ago and came before the city body last night on recommendation of the city planning commission that it be granted. The project is one of the major activities of the East Santa Ana Improvement association, and the petition carried the signatures of about 75 property owners, most of whom own property on East Fourth street.

City Attorney Charles Swanner was instructed to institute the necessary legal proceedings for creation of the district and City Engineer Clyde Jenken was directed to prepare plans and specifications.

As plans and specifications never have been prepared, any estimate as to the probable cost of the construction of a jetty would be mere guess-work at this time, but it has been said by some who have given consideration to the probable cost that the sum would be $80,000 to $100,000.

The limits of the territory of the assessment district will be determined after the engineer has submitted plans and an estimate of the costs. The east and west limits probably will be Main street on the west and the city limits on the east, but the north and south lines are very problematical. Discussions by councilmen would indicate, midway between Third and Second has been suggested as the south line and midway between Fifth and Sixth streets has been discussed as the north line.

SHOE SHINE PARLOR REPORTS $60 THEFT

Santa Ana police today were investigating the report of the theft of $60 in silver from the Tommy Lambros Shoe Shine parlor, on East Fourth street, reported yesterday.

The money was taken from a desk in the parlor, according to John Galinas, who reported the theft. Police were at a loss to understand how entrance to the place was made, they reported.

B. & P. W. CLUB TO ENTERTAIN COUNTY GIRLS

Learning to "think on their feet," Santa Ana Business and Professional Women yesterday took part in an impromptu program directed by Miss Mabel McFadden, chairman of the October program committee, by responding to unexpected calls with items of interest, bits of poetry or funny stories.

Miss Hazel Bemus and Eleanor Young Elliott served as judges, giving first place to Hannah Marsden Douglas, with honorable mention to May Beamer, Harriett Whidden and Helen Mateer Jeffery. Miss McFadden had provided a reward in the form of a bridge pencil which was presented to Mrs. Douglas.

COUNTY BOARD OF PAROLE FREES MAN

Dave Thompson, Huntington Beach, was paroled from the county jail yesterday by the county parole board.

Thompson was serving two sentences of petty theft, one of 90 days and the other of 100 days. He was alleged to have stolen property from a Huntington Beach Oil company.

The parole was made because he was needed to support his family, it was said.

SCOTTISH RITE MASONS HONOR EX-RESIDENT

Mrs. L. A. Schlesinger of 417 South Birch street, has received a letter from her brother, Jerome Forrest Prager of Balboa, Canal Zone, telling the news of his election to the 33rd degree in Masonry at the recent Supreme Council of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of the Southern Jurisdiction, meeting in Washington, D. C.

In addition to being included among the 226 Scottish Rite Masons on whom the coveted honor was conferred, the former Santa Ana was further honored by being made Honorary General Inspector. He is high in government service in the Canal Zone, being head of the commissary department at Balboa where with his assistants, he has to check supplies on all government vessels as they arrive and leave. In addition to his governmental duties, Mr. Prager is extremely active in Masonry and is the "father" of two flourishing Orders of De Molay, one at Balboa and one at Cristobal, and is also secretary of the Shrine club.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Prager, also live in this city. Jerome Prager was married about five years ago to Miss Florine Glawson, also in the government service in the Canal Zone, and they are the parents of two sons, Jerome Jr. and Louis, a baby now five months old.

Reckless Driver Given $20 Fine

Charged with reckless driving, Tony Alcalde, San Diego salesman was fined $200 in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court yesterday and the girl with whom he was arrested, Jennie Gonzales, charged with being drunk, was given a suspended sentence.

Both were arrested Saturday at Tustin by state traffic officers.

Alcalde testified that he gave the girl liquor, but for the purpose of dulling a pain she had in her side. The fine was paid.

JUDGMENT IS RENDERED IN THREE SUITS

Judgment for $13,453.66 had been rendered today as the result of concluding three civil suits in the superior court. J. C. Crawford, alleging that Forest Talmadge of Orange, had failed to pay three promissory notes aggregating $1013, received judgment for that amount with $165.05 interest and a $150 attorney fee. It was asserted that Talmadge made the notes to the Bear Rope Products company, which later was dissolved. Crawford is one of the trustees who are handling the company's affairs.

A mortgage and promissory note assigned to Anna M. Pendleton by the Merchants Mortgage and Finance company, to whom they were originally issued by Vern E. Maynard, were the basis of a suit which resulted in the plaintiff recovering judgment for $3497.25. The note and mortgage, on a Santa Ana lot, were issued in 1923 and were to run for a period of three years. The judgment includes interest and attorney's fees.

J. E. Prentice received judgment for $8023.36 as a result of the asserted failure of Mary B. Clark and W. B. Clark to pay a promissory note for $7500 at maturity. Interest from December 26, 1925, is included in the award, with a $600 attorney fee.

LOCAL BIRDS WIN AT EASTERN FAIRS

Mac O. Robbins and son Richard today are receiving the congratulations of friends for the excellent showings made by their English trumpet pigeons in eastern shows.

Four birds were entered in the Tri-State Fair at Memphis, the Peoria, Ill. fair. At the latter show the birds won first, second and third prizes. They captured three firsts and second.

The trumpeters were by express and arrived yesterday in excellent condition. Robbins said today.

The birds were among the exhibits at the Orange, Riverside and Los Angeles fairs this year.

To date this year Mr. Robbins and his son Richard have taken more than 100 ribbons with their pigeons.

Recall Of Farm Utilities Chief Is Aim Of Bureau

BAKERSFIELD, Nov. 1.—The Kern County Farm Bureau federation has sent a resolution to the state federation stating its reluctance to continue payment of dues to the utilities department of the organization unless that department undergoes complete reorganization.

It was said that the resolution marks the initiation of a move to secure the recall of J. J. Duell, chairman of the law and utilities department. The dissatisfaction is said to date back to a petition of Kern county farmers for readjustment of agricultural power rates, which, it is maintained, Duell's department failed to push.

Learning to "think on their feet," Santa Ana Business and Professional Women yesterday took part in an impromptu program directed by Miss Mabel McFadden, chairman of the October program committee, by responding to unexpected calls with items of interest, bits of poetry or funny stories.

Miss Hazel Bemus and Eleanor Young Elliott served as judges, giving first place to Hannah Marsden Douglas, with honorable mention to May Beamer, Harriett Whidden and Helen Mateer Jeffery. Miss McFadden had provided a reward in the form of a bridge pencil which was presented to Mrs. Douglas.

Business matters introduced by the president, Mrs. Laura Murray, included the introduction of three new members, Miss Bemus, Miss Daisy Fulwiler and Miss Ruby Fulwiler, and announced that Mrs. Blanche Brown had also been accepted into membership. Other business announcements included matters pertaining to the reciprocal dinner at the inn on November 21, when all B. and P. W. clubs of the county will be represented. Miss Elizabeth Phillips read a letter from Frank Miller, of Glenwood Mission Inn, Riverside, accepting the invitation to be present that night, but asking that his son be allowed to talk on the history and curios of the inn, in his place.

Miss McFadden introduced Lucille Harrell-Bond, soprano, who is teaching in Santa Ana two days a week, and her accompanist, Miss Aileen Lair, who presented the brief entertainment program. Mrs. Harrell-Bond sang two numbers very charmingly, choosing two entirely different styles of song by presenting first, "You in a Gondola," followed by "Mighty Lak a Rose."

Students Denied Cars So Take To Roller Skating

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 1.—University of Oklahoma students, who were denied the use of automobiles a few days ago have taken up roller skating.

When the edict against cars went into effect, buggy riding became the rage. But that didn't have the novelty desired.

Now the sidewalks ring with the sound of skates and tuck with the sound of falling bodies.

Drug stores in Norman have laid in a goodly supply of liniment.

Immigration Case Review Is Denied

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The U. S. supreme court has denied Josephine H. Plane, French woman now in Los Angeles, review of federal court decisions upholding an immigration bureau deportation order against her, based on a police charge she operated a Los Angeles hotel used as a disorderly house.

She alleged that the only evidence against her was that a girl was arrested in her hotel after a detective had accosted the girl.

FIVE YEAR OLD CHILD INJURED BY AUTOMOBILE

Marion Baldwin, five year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy J. Baldwin, 1419 West Fourth street, was severely injured yesterday when she was struck by an automobile driven by a Mexican youth, whose name was not learned in the confusion that followed. The accident occurred near the child's home.

According to a report filed at the police station by the father, the mother of the girl, Mrs. Velma Baldwin, witnessed the accident and absolved the driver from any blame.

The report indicated that the child was watching a school bus which she intended to get on and stepped down from the curb without seeing the approach of the other machine. She was struck before the driver of the car could stop.

A slight concussion of the brain was suffered by the child. She was taken to her home, where her condition is not thought to be serious.

Disabled Vessel Being Towed Into New York Harbor

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—The Coast Guard cutter Office, towing the disabled Italian steamer Labor into New York, Coast Guard headquarters have been advised. The Labor lost her propeller off Nantucket shoals and was in danger of going ashore when picked up by the cutter.

SET TRIAL DATE OF CHORUS GIRLS

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 1.—Thirty-five chorus girls and men, members of the "Hot Mama" company, taken into custody in a raid on the Folies theater here, will face trial in municipal court November 29 on charges of violating a state ordinance prohibiting lewd productions.

Date for the trial was set yesterday and members of the same company, arrested in a second raid, are to face municipal Judge Blake again today to have the date for a second trial on the same charges fixed.

The Folies theater was raided after police received numerous complaints that the show was the "dirtiest show in town." Arrests were made Friday and members of the company arraigned in court. That night the show was again produced in defiance of the police and the second raid resulted.

Falls From Tree And Kills Self

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Nov. 1.—Frank W. Wind, 19, of Canton, O., died in a hospital here of a broken neck suffered when he fell 30 feet from a tree. He was employed by the Nelson Kuemering company, Canton, under contract to trim trees for the Union Electric Light and Power company.

TWIN GIRLS RECEIVE PLENTY PROPOSALS

FREMONT, Neb., Nov. 1.—"If we should decide to be old maids it won't be because we haven't received some interesting proposals for marriage," declare Hazel and Helen Struble, twin daughters of Dr. and Mrs. C. K. Struble.

During the summer just past the girls took a vacation trip through Canada and, while there, met and danced with his royal highness, the Prince of Wales.

Upon their return to Fremont this fall, the twins enrolled as freshmen in Midland college. Because they look and dress alike and take the same courses, they have baffled professors. This made good "copy" for two press associations and a picture of the girls was given national distribution.

As a result, the girls are being flooded with mail, much of which is from young men whose admiration has been aroused by reading about them and seeing their picture.

One would-be Romeo from an Illinois city tells the girls he is "looking for a good honest girl—if he can find one"—and that from their picture he is sure they are just the type for which he has been searching.

He forgot, however, to say which of the twins he would prefer as a wife and the letter was addressed to both.

Falls To Death From 10th Floor

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 1.—While a Halloween dance on the roof garden of the Kansas City Athletic club was in progress, Silas H. Fish, 23, tried to balance himself on a window ledge on the tenth floor of the building and fell to his death.

Destruction Of London Is Seen

LONDON, Nov. 1.—London may be destroyed by vibration some day according to the gist of an address made by Major R. Ingo Tasker, M. P., before the Hammer-smith Rotary club.

He estimated that there are over 100,000 alterations to buildings in London every year and added that the falling in of walls and roofs is frequently reported.

"Many London buildings," he continued, "have a very fine face but their piers and columns are filled with rubble and lime. The weight of the Dome of St. Paul is being borne on the shell of its piers."

SUICIDE RATE IN CALIFORNIA IS INCREASING

BY ESTO BROUGHTON
Staff Correspondent Santa Ana Register

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 1.—More than twice as many Californians grow tired of life and seek suicide as a way out, than throughout the United States as a whole, comparatively speaking.

And the suicide epidemic is hitting the smaller cities of California harder and harder each year, according to a statement issued today by Dr. Walter Dickie, director of the State Department of Public Health.

Furthermore, it is the aged and not hot headed youths, who are recklessly taking their own lives, it appears. For although the suicide rate has been constantly rising in California there has not been any increase in the rate of self-destruction of individuals from ten to nineteen years of age, Dr. Dickie stated.

The death rate for suicides in this state has jumped from 25.5 per 100,000 in 1922 to 27.7 for the past year.

Old age is blamed by the health authority for the mounting number of self-murders. "For with old age comes ill-health, discouragement and poverty," Dr. Dickie declared, "and these are the chief reasons given for suicides."

Suicide centers have shifted from the big cities to the smaller towns, according to Dickie's report. San Diego has first place in the lists of self-destruction with a rate of 48.3, which is more than four times that of the United States.

In a period of growing self-violence Long Beach remained unchanged in its rate. There were 17 suicides in Long Beach during the last twelve months, Dr. Dickie reported, and the same number in the preceding year.

Santa Ana, however, doubled its suicide rate. There were 4 suicides in Santa Ana, as compared to 2 the previous year, and 12 in Orange County as against 8 in the preceding twelve months.

In the city of Riverside, suicides jumped from 2 to 3, but in Riverside county the total for the year was 6, as compared to 8 the previous year.

Ventura County showed a sharp upward trend in self-destruction, based on its population, with 11 suicides for the year just past, against 8 in the preceding twelve-month period.

When the "Main Streeters" grow "too tired" of living, the favorite "way out" is with firearms. More individuals in California have killed themselves by shooting during the last five years than by any other method, the state board of health tables show.

The next most popular means of self-destruction is by poisoning, hanging and stabbing, each in the order named.

Troubled by the high suicide rate in California, which more than doubles the national rate of 12.1 per 100,000, Dr. Dickie is insisting that some steps should be taken to the increasing suicidal wave.

Preservation is one of the set inherent instincts in the "race," declared Dr. Dickie, "actors which are powerful to destroy this strong instinct should be known."

Dickie has recommended an research into the fundamental causes leading to suicides, as a necessary preliminary to curbing the abnormal waste of human life.

Lovers Advised By Oregon Cops

PORTLAND, Nov. 4.—There is no limit to the sort of duties forced upon Portland policemen, judging from police records.

One cites an instance where a girl summoned the police and after the police arrived, asked them to drive away a young man who had called on her after they had quarreled the night before. "She had a date with another youth," the report says, "and while we were there still another man arrived."

"We let the girl take her choice, told the other boys to leave and advised her to get a date book," the report continues.

Distiller Leaves Note For Sheriff

OAKLAND, Nov. 4.—"Dear Sheriff: To hell with this business. The planes are too sharp. We're going home horses and mules are used. They stay on the ground."

That was the note found near the scene of a distillery in Crow canyon which was located by county and federal officers on an aerial still hunt. They had to find a place to land the plane, and by the time they got back the bootlegger had disappeared leaving the note.

Court Notes

Asks Divorce

Alleging that his wife habitually refused to accompany him to shows in the evening because she was tired and that she then stayed out till 3 a. m. at card parties, Ernest G. Sawyer had today filed suit for divorce against Ruth L. Sawyer. He alleged that in 1926 Mrs. Sawyer left him for a period of six months.

Sues for Commission

Because of the alleged refusal of N. V. Cramer and Gertrude Cramer to complete an exchange of Buena Park real estate with W. J. Hildebrand and Beatrice Hildebrand for Fullerton property, Mae Reeve, who claims to have been the agent in the affair, has been unable to collect her commission. Mae Reeve has filed suit for $62.50 against Mr. and Mrs. Cramer, stating that the other parties were ready to go through with the deal but that the Cramers would not finish the trade although they were to receive $200 cash as a result of the deal.

Awarded Judgment

Thomas and Emma Morin had today been awarded judgment for $950, interest and attorney fees, against Vernon E. Kilgore, Malcolm E. Kilgore and C. A. Schulz. In 1924, according to the plaintiff, Vernon Kilgore gave him a promissory note for $1000. The note was secured by a mortgage on property which was sold later to Schulz, who agreed to pay the mortgage at maturity. His assertion of failure and the supposed refusal of the Kilgores to satisfy the demand, resulted in the court action.

These MOVIE PEOPLE

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. — Less than three years ago the William Fox studio was considered as "just another movie lot" in motion picture circles. Nothing which went on behind the Fox gates was taken seriously in film land.

Today the Fox banner flies as high as that of any other company. A few stars and directors have been given the credit for elevating the position of Fox films. As a matter of fact, one man—unknown to moviegoers—should be accorded the biggest share of the handclapping. He is Winfield R. Sheehan, better known among his friends as "Winnee," vice president and general manager of the studio.

Mix Keeps Camera Going
Sheehan has been associated with Fox right from the start and can remember the time, not so long ago, when the cameras would have ceased grinding had it not been for Tom Mix. Tom then was the backbone of the studio. He still is a mighty popular actor and would be a great asset to any studio, but Fox no longer has to depend upon him to keep the studio open.

To Sheehan goes most of the credit for such stars as Charley Farrell, Janet Gaynor, Olive Borden, Victor McLaglen, Edmund Lowe and several newcomers, including Nick Stuart, Nancy Nash and Sally Phillips. Sheehan signed Farrell to a long-term contract about a year and a half ago when no other studio would consider him. Now Charley is a star.

"The Cock-Eyed World"
The G. M. (general manager) also is directly responsible for such films as "What Price Glory," "The Heaven," "Sunrise" and several others, all of which warrant "ten best of the year" ratings. And it was his idea that started Lawrence Stallings writing another story for a follow-up of "What Price Glory." The new production, which will be called "The Cock-Eyed World," will be directed by Raoul Walsh, who directed the great war film, and will have the same cast headed by Dolores Del Rio, Edmund Lowe and Victor McLaglen.

For several years Sheehan spent almost his entire time in foreign countries building up a demand for Fox films. He organized branch distributing offices in 49 countries outside of the United States, putting them on every continent. That being accomplished, he was forced to come back to the Hollywood studio in order to hurry up production to meet the demand he had created. One of his first steps was the erection of the new Fox Hills studio, between Hollywood and the Pacific, at a cost of $5,000,000.

There is perhaps no other man in the movie colony, with the possible exception of Joe Schenck, who has done as much for the advancement of pictures as Sheehan. And no one is more popular, even among rivals.

PUZZLE OVER CIDER

YAKIMA, Wn., Nov. 1.—Last year, according to government test, the apple cider vinegar made around here contained 7 per cent alcohol instead of the one-half of 1 per cent allowed by law. This year government chemists have been invited to help solve the problem of de-kicking the cider. They think it can be distilled and are working on a method.

Says Jazz, Gin Hold Women Back

CHICAGO, Nov. 4.—If women will pass up the jazz-gin-and-fur-bellows, opportunity is hers for the asking. Mrs. Blanche R. Green, America's highest salaried business woman believes.

As evidence that she practices what she preaches, Mrs. Green draws $100,000 per year for her services.

Fifteen years ago she sold corsets for the then good wage of $50 per week.

Today she is vice president and general manager of the corset company.

"I have reached my position," she said, "by refusing to yield to the petty discouragements and distractions which too many alert and ambitious American women permit to defeat them."

Mrs. Green recently returned from a several months' stay in England, where she studied business conditions for her firm.

Rescues Stray Canine, Gets $10

SAN PEDRO, Nov. 4.—An "ordinary" house dog roams the streets here today, perhaps thanking Nigger, bulldog extraordinary, for his continued existence. The story of the rescue of the homeless cur dog occurred just before the liner "Mongolia" sailed for New York. A sudden cry of "Dog overboard!" sent Mrs. W. A. Heenan, San Francisco society woman, to the rail of the ship, shouting that she would give $10 to the rescue of Nigger. Charles Hansen, deck hand, made a spectacular dive into the water, clambering aboard again in a few minutes with the dog under his arm. "Oh," cried Mrs. Heenan, "that isn't Nigger."

Dashing madly to her cabin, she found Nigger sound asleep upon the bed, dry as a camel after the seventh day and lounging with an unassuming idleness that only a society dog can affect.

Forgotten and alone, the cur dog sneaked away. Hansen got the $10 anyway.

Arizona To Have Highest Bridge

PHOENIX, Ariz., Nov. 4.—Wedged between the walls of the Grand Canyon of the Colorado, the new highway bridge, being built near Lees Ferry, Ariz., is to be the highest single arch highway bridge in the world, Arizona state officials declare.

The span of 616 feet is 467 feet above the surface of the water. The Grand Canyon bridge, as it has been named, will furnish a more convenient crossing of the river for the tourists and hunters going into the Kaibab forests, in the northern Arizona strip, and a more direct route between Salt Lake City, Utah, and Phoenix.

The work of blasting into the Kaibab limestone walls of the canyon for the abutments of the bridge is now going on under the direction of the state highway department. The contract for the construction of the bridge has been let to the Kansas City Structural Steel company for $222,000. Of this amount the United States Indian service appropriated $100,000, and the state the remainder.

The contract calls for the completion of the work on or before September 1, 1928.

DUCE RUNS WORK

ROME, Nov. 1.—Under a new Mussolini rule, stores in Italy are compelled to offer their wares at prices fixed by the government. Landlords must stick to fixed rentals. Farmers are held to harvesting an acre of their crops even at a loss. Bank loans are refused or forced on government orders and at interest rates prescribed regardless of normal financial standards.

AT THE THEATRE

YOST BROADWAY THEATRE

Jean Hersholt, whom many critics regard as the most versatile actor on the screen appears once more in a sympathetic and likable role—one of the few he has ever portrayed.

It is in "Alias the Deacon," the Universal Jewel of which he is the star, and which is now showing on the screen at the Yost Broadway Theatre.

Hersholt, with in the past few years, has played every conceivable kind of role, and his striking characterizations have been the outstanding feature of every picture in which he has appeared.

In "Greed" he gave a performance so forceful and drew his character so clearly that it is still regarded as one of the finest bits of acting ever performed on the screen.

He played prominent roles also in "Don Q," "Stella Dallas," "I Must Be Love" and starred in "The Old Soak" and "The Wrong Mr. Wright" for Universal.

"Alias the Deacon" presents him as a kindly and benign appearing person whose kindness does not keep him from earning his living at cards off those who think they are taking advantage of him.

TEMPLE THEATRE

Hobart Bosworth, the distinguished stage and screen star who plays the part of James Newman in "The Blood Ship," the feature this week on the screen at the Temple theatre, gives a greater characterization in this role than any other he has yet portrayed, not even excepting "The Sea Wolf."

Vivid scenes in the picture were taken on board an old clipper ship, the "Bohemia," rechristened the "Golden Bough" in the picture.

An interesting commentary is that Norman Springer, the author of "The Blood Ship," visualized Hobart Bosworth in the leading role after he had seen the actor in "The Sea Wolf."

Bosworth drew an actual experience when he appeared in "The Blood Ship," for he went to sea in old merchant ships from the time he was twelve to the time he was fifteen years old, finishing with a whaling trip to the Arctic.

English Women's Feet Are Longer

LONDON, Nov. 4.—English women's feet are growing longer. The average woman's foot today is a size longer and proportionately wider than a few years ago, according to footwear experts here.

"The average stock size of a woman's shoe," said a representative of a noted firm of shoe manufacturers, "is size 4 and fitting 5. It used to be size 4 and fitting 4, or even fitting 3."

$350,000 School Started On $3000

NEVADA, Mo., Nov. 1.—Forty-

four years ago Miss Virginia A. Cottey took her entire savings of $3000 and built a combination school building and dormitory upon a tract of land donated by the city of Nevada. Today the Cottey College for Women here is evaluated at $350,000.

The Cottey plan of housing the students is one of the features of this school founded by Mrs. Virginia Stockard formerly Miss Cottey. The plan consists of a grouping of single rooms around a common lobby center. This unique loiter room system provides a channel for expressions and may therefore be counted as a safety valve for the bubbling social instinct of youthful nature.

"We want our girls to get married," said Mrs. Stockard, "but we want them first to understand what a home means. We do not try to influence them to get married. We do, though, try to emphasize the sacredness of the home life."

Charged with being drunk, Clyde Kenyon, 519 East Fourth street, was given a 30 day suspended jail sentence in Judge Talbot's court yesterday but the judge ruled that a single drink within the next month, would constitute a violation of the terms of probation and Kenyon could be jailed on the original charge.

Robert Thompson, 707 South Emery place, Fullerton, reported the theft of his automobile from near 402 Orange avenue, last night at 7 o'clock. Officers throughout the county were given a description of the machine.

Chart Discloses Data On Pupils

BERKELEY, Nov. 1.—The co-

eds who share the scholarly tomes and hesitate to burn the midnight oil for fear their matrimonial ambitions will go askance, may delve into phonology, physiology, or philosophy to their heart's content without fear, now that the statistical chart compiled by Dr. S. J. Holmes, professor of zoology, and J. S. Bolin, former instructor of education, has been made public.

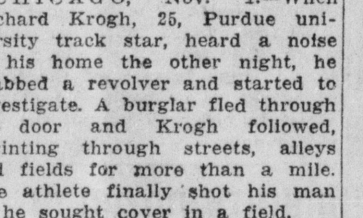

The survey of the University of California graduates from 1878 to 1910 discloses conclusively the scholarly co-ed who earns high grades will marry just as quickly and as securely as the damsel who boasts of a dozen fraternity pins and whose education is mostly social.

The "average girl" marries four and six-tenths years after graduation, the survey also shows.

PICKED WRONG VICTIM

CHICAGO, Nov. 1.—When Richard Krogh, 25, Purdue university track star, heard a noise in his home the other night, he grabbed a revolver and started to investigate. A burglar fled through the door and Krogh followed, sprinting through streets, alleys and fields for more than a mile. The athlete finally shot his man as he sought cover in a field.

Children Cry for

Fletcher's CASTORIA

This baby has never had a day's sickness and never a cross or fretful spell that lasted an hour. And what do you suppose is responsible for this happy condition? Not diet, for he has eaten just about anything and everything a child could eat. Not drugs, for he has not been dosed with opiates; he has never had a drop of paregoric. Nor has his sensible mother ever made him taste castor oil. Yet his nerves are sound and his little bowels are strong, and when he does seem the least restless or wakeful, or out of sorts—or likely to be—his mother has him all serene again in ten or fifteen minutes!

The secret of this complete freedom from the many ills and upsets so common to infants? Plain old-fashioned Castoria. A million and more mothers swear by Castoria, and no wonder! A few drops and an approaching fever, colic, diarrhoea or constipation seems to vanish in thin air. Castoria is purely vegetable; that is why

7 SAVED AFTER SEVEN DAYS IN AN OPEN BOAT

NEW YORK, Nov. 1.—Bitten by the salt of the sea and whipped by the winds for seven days and six nights as they hung on to life in an open boat, eight white men and a negro finally were saved.

"De Lord don't want us yet," was the negro's explanation. The nine, members of the crew of the four-masted schooner Horatio G. Foss, arrived here aboard the Voleland which came along in Bermuda waters just in time to rescue them.

The schooner sank in a gale 200 miles northeast of Hamilton, October 22.

William D. Potter, Yankee-bred master, said the vessel had been fighting ocean combers for the three weeks it stayed afloat after clearing Delaware breakwater for Martinique.

Finally he gave the order to abandon ship. In the excitement Leonard Olsen, one of the crew disappeared and the others were about to pull away in a 22-foot boat when he hailed them. He jumped into the sea and joined his fellows.

Then Captain Potter found he had forgotten his compass. He swam back to the foundering schooner, took the instrument from the binoculars by the wheel and returned. Oars and a harpoon were used for masts, blankets for sails. Spray soaked the men continuously and water seeped in as fast as two men could bail it out.

Meanwhile Joseph Notice, the negro cook who was called Bill, "got religion."

He held a prayer-book he had saved from the wreck and his frenzy all but destroyed the morale of the exhausted, starving seamen.

It seemed to Bill that every change of the wind was the result of divine intervention affecting him and his mates.

At length Bermuda was sighted but the reefs outside the island were too much for the little boat which never could have made shore intact.

Then the Voleland, carrying 450 New York bankers and their wives, nosed out of Hamilton. Captain Potter sent up flares. The big liner pulled close and released an oil slick that quieted the thrashing waters. Rescue was effected more or less easily, the men wearily climbing a line hand over hand.

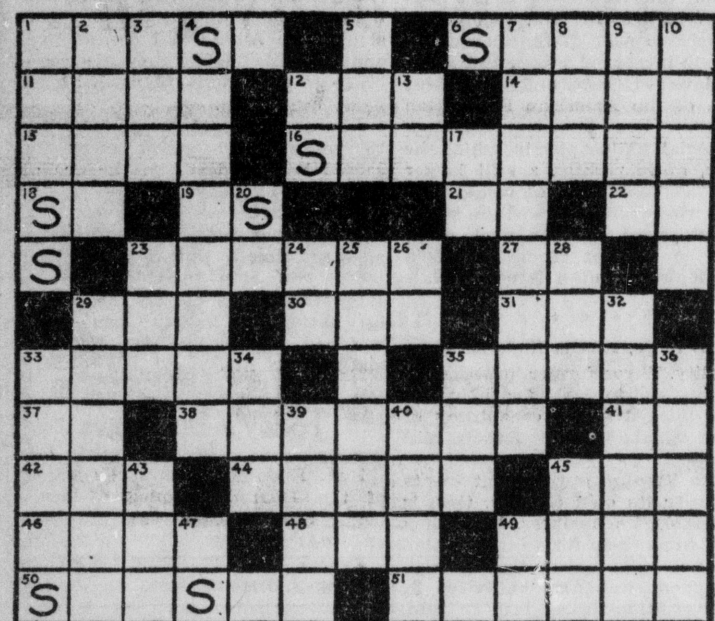

Then real food and fresh water. New clothing to replace rags. Beds to sleep in.

Bill asked for a "Bible and a bottle of rum." He appeared in the best of spirits when he reached port.

SOCIETY, JUSTICE NOT PRECEDENT THE OBJECT

There is a general breakdown of law-enforcement in the United States. Many things contribute to this situation. The multiplicity of laws, the desire on the part of people to evade many of them, and the knowledge by those who are criminally inclined that the chances are all in favor of them going scot free in any case.

The theory upon which America's criminal law is based is one of genuine justice. But in its actual development and practice the anxiety shown to protect the criminal has subverted our whole system of jurisprudence so as to culminate in a tremendous network of intricacies for the protection of the criminal against punishment. This largely clusters around the rules of evidence. In American courts, the rules determining the admissibility of evidence are such that a shrewd lawyer is able by raising objections, citing precedents and argument to at least raise a question in the mind of the court as to whether the particular question or witness's evidence comes within the prohibition and the judge, dreading reversal on appeal, denies the admission. Owing to this denial keeping the evidence out in thousands of cases, the jury is unable to convict and the state has absolutely no redress when the prisoner walks out of the courthouse. Whether it is a hung jury or a verdict of not guilty, the decision of the judge excluding evidence cannot be carried up. This is only possible if he admits the evidence and a verdict of guilty is brought in. Substantial justice should be the purpose of our criminal courts and superior courts should be prevented from remanding cases back for a new trial simply on a technicality. The question affecting the criminal is whether he is guilty of the crime with which he is charged. And if he has ever told the truth concerning his crime that truth ought not to be excluded from the jury when there is no question about its authenticity but simply a question about the channels through which it is reaching the jury.

The truth is, the judges are more fearful of losing their reputation as judges than they are anxious to see society protected from the horde that is preying upon it. That is, they are afraid of being over-ruled by the admission of evidence that some rule precludes. But if substantial justice and the truth of the testimony was the basis, the judge would not be over-ruled if a fair trial were given.

We are not suggesting here something that does not have the approval of hundreds of courts and thousands of lawyers. No less a personage than Dean Pound of Harvard Law School has devoted more than one occasion an entire address to practically the same idea, calling attention to the fact that the law has not adapted itself to new conditions in society because of its tie-up to precedents that were established under entirely different conditions than now exist and that the lawyers are now using the letter of the rule, a rule that was laid down when it furthered justice and under different conditions which, when applied with a literalness to a present situation, defeats justice.

One would think that the object of our courts and trials and criminal procedure is the maintaining of worn out precedents and rules. The real object is justice, square-dealing, the protection of society, the punishment of the guilty, the institution and the rules are made to this end and as they are now defeating it they should be amended and changed.

The Fall-Sinclair trial at Washington emphasizes anew the importance of such amendment and change.

CLYDE BISHOP

The death of Clyde Bishop brought to an end the career of a man of outstanding native ability. To a very large extent and unusual degree he was a self-educated and a self-made man, for he left school early in his teens and by sheer persistence and hard work outside of school fitted himself for the profession in which he attained prominence in this country.

It was not only as lawyer that Bishop made a place for himself; he was known far and wide as an orator of unusual force. His addresses carried with them a dramatic power that brought him distinction not only in the courtroom but upon the platform.

Looking back upon Attorney Bishop's public activities, those who knew him remember numerous occasions in which he first his audience with patriotic fervor. The spirit of patriotism ran strong through Mr. Bishop's veins. As a young man he volunteered for the Spanish-American war, and in the World War he took a leading part in local activities, and but for the sudden close of the con-roling he would have again been in uniform.

The fact that Mr. Bishop enjoyed wide and lucrative practice indicates the esteem in which he was held by a large clientele.

In whatever issues Mr. Bishop entered, he became a positive force. Determination and resourcefulness marked his legal career, and it was his pride that he stood high in his profession.

The sudden and unexpected death in the prime of life of a man who has taken a prominent part in numerous lines of activity within a community is always cause for pause. We always wonder what might have been in store for him had he lived on a few years longer. It is known that Mr. Bishop, having gathered together considerable in wealth, was letting down somewhat in the arduous work of his office, and was inclined to devote himself to the legal end of banking. There was a possibility, too, that he might again enter the political arena. But death has brought an end to his plans, and an end to a colorful career.

Today his friends are recounting his fondness for quiet and liberal philanthropy; they are reviewing some of their more intimate experiences, picturing angles in his life little known by the public. And with his friends those are the details of the measurement of remembrance of his life rather than the victories in hard fought battles of the courtroom and the stirring appeals on the public platform.

A SOCIAL CALL ON THE AZORES

The town of Horta, Fayal, in the Azores Islands, rubs its eyes and looks around. A couple of ladies have dropped in for a short visit. The visitors are Ruth Elder from America and Lillie Dillenz from Austria.

"Just flying over this way and thought we'd drop in to see you," might have been the greeting of these two daring women of the air as they met in that remote spot on the sea. Then, a handshake, a dinner, and they are on their way, the Austrian actress on her way to America, and Ruth going on to Lisbon.

Who remembers the day when women used to be just a little timid about walking home alone of a dark night?

What Constitutes a Perfect City?

Long Beach Press-Telegram

Standardization may be overdone; but there are certain qualities which can be right only when they meet uniform specifications. For example, there cannot be too much public health. The conditions which lead to public health are the same everywhere. Sanitation is highly important, for sanitation yields cleanliness.

Fire protection is another function of municipal government which can be measured by results. Fire protection does not mean merely so many fire stations, so many fire wagons, so many firemen and so much equipment. Fire protection means, first of all, fire prevention; and fire prevention is not only the result of frequent inspections. It is the product of right construction in the initial instance. Therefore, there are certain standards for building codes which are applicable to cities everywhere. Efforts are being made to standardize building regulations in all Western States, and it is pleasing to know that such progressive cities as Long Beach and Pasadena are having a prominent part in this endeavor.

Police regulation is another matter with which standardization may be coupled properly. Standard traffic rules, for example, are most desirable. Each community has police problems similar to the problems of all other communities.

Recently a movement was launched, somewhat tentatively perhaps, for a standard test of municipalities, each function to be rated by results. For instance, a city that reported a number of typhoid cases would be penalized in the analysis for lacking a standard water supply, or standard efficiency in health inspection or whatever may have been the cause of preventable disease. Fire losses would be another basis of test.

Fundamentals are being developed in city planning. Building heights, air and light spaces are being standardized. Even the realm of the artistic is feeling the force of comparative analysis. A city that permits its streets to be littered with billboards or gaudy advertising signs of any character will not stand so high in this particular rating as another city that discourages such tendencies.

Width of streets and the manner in which they are maintained by the sanitary department; condition of parks and playgrounds, with the relative area on a popular basis, will afford another medium of measurement. Sewage disposal, garbage and rubbish disposal are other telling points.

The city that makes the best showing when all the report cards are in naturally will have much to claim in seeking new residents.

That it is possible to standardize the utilitarian function of municipalities without destroying the distinctive elements of each community has been well proved. Whenever a city is put upon its mettle by the knowledge that such tests are to be made, better general conditions may be expected.

This Weighty Question Seems Easy of Solution

San Francisco Chronicle

Casting about for something else to tax the British government has hit, of all things, upon that sacred British institution, the monocle. The Board of Trade, which has jurisdiction in such matters, has been called upon to decide whether or no the monocle is an optical instrument. Why, bless their dear innocent British hearts, the monocle has no relation to optics or vision. It is a badge of distinction like the Victoria Cross or the Star and Garter. If the authorities reject this interpretation and insist on taxing it there is nothing to do but classify it as a personal ornament, never to be worn except with spats and a walking stick.

MANY ILLS OF WORKERS EASILY PREVENTABLE

Out of almost 14,000,000 insured workers in Great Britain between 45 per cent and 50 per cent were ill at one time or another during the year, and in some districts the percentage of illness rose as high as 80 per cent.

This means that the equivalent of one year's work was lost by each of 447,115 persons. The records do not take account of illness of three days' duration or less nor of the inefficiency and loss due to chronic or vague ill-health which the worker tolerates and for which he does not seek relief or compensation.

All of the nations of the world are giving increasing attention to the care of the health of the worker, because men are only beginning to realize what a tremendous economic drain illness in industry really is.

The Common Cold

As indicated by Dr. Leonard P. Lockhart, medical officer of the great firm in England known as the Boots Pure Drug Co., 20 per cent of the loss of time of workers in 1924, which was an average year, was due to the common cold, 14 per cent to rheumatism and similar troubles, 13 per cent to influenza, 12 per cent to injuries and 7 per cent to boils and other infections. Thus nearly three-fourths of all the difficulty, and the figures for the United States would be about the same, are due to conditions that are largely preventable.

Dr. Lockhart explains simply his conception of the manner in which bad ventilation is related to the causation of colds. The employee works in hot stagnant air which causes the membranes lining the air passages to become relaxed and engorged with blood. On this spongy membrane the germs settle.

Membranes Contract

Then when the individual goes out into the cold air, the membranes become tense and contract, imprisoning the germs in the crypts. There, where it is warm and moist, they propagate and produce infections. The difficulty can be lessened by having the workers in a cool environment with warm feet and cool heads.

Heating arrangements should have as their ideal the warming of the lower layers of air in the room. The warm air rises. Fans and other ventilating devices can keep it circulating.

Regardless of the notions held by some health teachers, the majority of opinion inclines to the view that the cold draught is not infrequently associated with catching cold.

Windows may be opened wide before work and during the noon hour to ventilate the rooms thoroughly but proper guards should be provided during working hours to keep off cold draughts.

LINES FOR A CHURCH CENTENNIAL

A century of service to mankind!
And still the steeple stands beneath the sky.
Thrones rise and fall and fashions drop behind,
The church is all we have that doesn't die.

One hundred years and still the church is young,
Still men keep faith and seek the finer things,
Still hymns of faith and praise to God are sung
While time rusts fate, ends power and humbles kings.

Men come and go upon the stream of change,
Through new and old God keeps His place on earth,
Abiding faith! Oh, is that phrase so strange
Since centuries add lustre to its worth?

A Tale of Pure Ivory

Boneheads are alike the world over. But the prize story of ivory, ivory all the way through, comes from the important French port of Le Havre.

The French tennis players, who beat our boys not so long ago, in the big tournament, landed on their beloved soil. With them they proudly bore the Davis Cup, the famous trophy which they won and which is to be stored in Paris in the keeping of the French Lawn Tennis Association until next year's play.

"M. Cochet," said Monsieur Ivory. "This is a cup. It is a silver cup. It is a dutiable cup. It cannot pass the customs until the duty has been paid upon it."

M. Cochet and his fellow tennis players protested and explained. Two cabinet ministers explained. The vice president of the Chamber of Deputies explained. All to no purpose. Finally the chief of the customs service at Paris had to be communicated with. Poor old Job had many trials. But he escaped one. He never had to wrestle with Monsieur Ivory at a customs port.

Little Benny's Note Book

By Lee Page

Mary Watkins was sitting on her front steps on 2 cushions and I went and sat alongside of her on none and started to talk to her about different subjects such as how old a lady can be and still have her hair bobbed, and weather it is possible to be tall and still have short legs, Mary Watkins not hardly answering and hardly moving her mouth when she talked, and whenever I said anything funny she just smiled instead of laughing like she generally does, me thinking, G, I guess she don't feel so good. I bet I can make her laugh and feel better all right.

Which I started to try to do, making faces and saying all kinds a funny things without making her do anything but kind of smile sideways, and Maud Jonson came out of her house to go an errand, and I said, G, look at Maud Jonson, she looks like 2 slices of bunions tied together.

Being the funniest thing I had said yet, and Mary Watkins laughed as wide as anything, and she said she have out but a tooth rite in front, proving why she hadn't laughed before, and she quick shut her mouth again mad as anything, saying, Benny Potts I'll never speak to you again, I'll never speak to you again, I'll never speak to you again.

Why was a matter, why, I didn't notice anything, I said, and she said, Yes you did too, your a big story teller and you did it on purpose, I'll never speak to you again and I'm going rite in. Why, G wiz good nite, wats a matter? I said trying to pretend to look innocent, and she said, O keep quiet and shut up, I think your the worst boy I know and the worst looking one too, I'm going rite in.

Wish she did.
Proving if people feel like looking sad sometime the best thing is not to interrupt them.

CURRENT COMMENT

By CHESTER H. ROWELL

WE SPEND twenty dollars on war for every cent we spend on peace. At least, so it would seem from the budget of the State Department, whose gross cost is only $10,000,000 a year, and which earns all but a little over a million of that from passport, consular and other fees. The net cost of our whole diplomatic service is a cent a year to each of us. We are lucky if we get off with twenty dollars for the debts and pensions of past and the preparations for future wars. And the next war, if it does come, will pile at least $500 a piece on us, beyond that. Could we not afford to make it two cents a year, instead of one, to equip our foreign service to make war a little less probable?

ACCORDING to the Industrial Conference Board, American industry produces as much with 67 men now as it did with 100 in 1899, though the men work much shorter hours. Measured by the hour, we have nearly doubled the production per man.

The increase, of course, is due not at all to the men working harder, and not much to their working better. It is wholly the product of machinery and organization, neither of which, with rare exceptions, these workers produced. If we were to follow the Socialist maxim, and give to each worker "the full product of his toil," the workers would have shared in none of the benefits of this increased production. It would go all to the inventors and organizers who produced it. Perhaps that is one of the reasons American labor is not socialist. It has, in fact, received a considerable part of the increment, partly in increased wages and partly in lowered costs, and President Green, of the American Federation of Labor, has just enunciated a new social philosophy in which he claims, quite rightly, a still larger share. A "social wage" would give to the worker his share of the social product, even of that part of it which he did not produce. It is a good doctrine, but it is not Socialist.

ONCE more, Russia finds England guilty. Three former millionaires are sentenced to death for their part in the alleged secret conspiracy of British agents to drive Russia into war.

If the Russian government wants to murder its subjects, that is presumably its business. But when it condemns them for a crime which could not exist unless the British government was also guilty of it, the accusation is against Britain, and should meet with even more official protest from the British government than the disclaimers already issued. Of course, unless the London foreign office has gone absolutely lunatic, no such thing ever occurred. If it did, Britain deserves to be arraigned before the bar of nations as a traitor to the peace of the world. If it did not, Russia is wantonly slaughtering its own citizens, for a hallucination.

"BIG BILL" now says he didn't do it. He ordered "Sport" Hermann to check up on the pro-British books in the Chicago library (of which, according to the librarian himself, there are many thousands) but the bonfire was Hermann's own idea. There was, of course, never any likelihood that the burning would be actually carried out, and it would have done little practical harm if it were. Books are too plenty and too cheap, these days, for knowledge to be obstructed by burning a few of them. The library rules would have prevented the burning, anyway. If the injunction had not, the harm was in the insult to human intelligence of the whole crusade, and that insult remains, even if the "burning" is suspended.

The real significance of Big Bill and his like is in the doubt they cast on the capacity of the American people to operate democracy on the scale, of size and of complexity, to which it has grown. Once the problem was moral. Our city governments were dishonest. But revolt against stealing is within the capacity of the most primitive mind, and even the most diverse interests can be harmonized on it. Now the problem is intellectual. Big Bill, as the most picturesque example, has called forth a whole flood of magazine articles, to explain the mental processes by which he has managed to hypnotize Chicago into electing him repeatedly. Not one of these analyses attributes to the dominant majority of Chicago even twelve-year-old intelligence or sense of public responsibility. The dominant note is praise of Thompson for his skill in fooling ignorant and childish people.

WHEN Lincoln and Douglas appealed to simple Illinois farmers, their debates set a high-water mark in political discussion, and became permanent historic documents. From the logic of Lincoln and Douglas to the crude buncombe of Big Bill, Illinois has descended. Can Democracy survive, and would it be worth maintaining, if that is to remain its intellectual level?

We Are Young

One hundred and fifty years ago the famous Liberty Bell first clanged on American independence, and in Philadelphia they are celebrating the anniversary with a great exposition.

James T. Montgomery, who for 25 years stood guard over the sacred bell, is dead, on the eve of its 150th birthday.

America is a young country, and to Americans 150 years seems a long time. But not so long when you stop to think that a thing that is as old as the greatest nation on earth has been watched over by one man for one-sixth of its life.

The Candy Mill

By SHIRLEY RODMAN WILLIAMS.

THE very first tooth a baby cuts is his sweet-tooth. I'm sure, for then, and ever after, he loves candy. Candy has its legitimate place on the list of what a child should eat, but you will find that authorities recommend it after a meal, never before, or in between. Quite naturally, children ask and tease for it, so it's up to the grown-up to govern how much the child gets. When Marie and Junior come home from school hungry, don't let them eat candy or other sweets, but, in all kindness to them and with a thought for their health, give them an apple or plain bread and butter.

WHEN I get big,
Like Mister Brigg,
I'll run a candy mill.
Of icing tall,
I'll build the wall,
And set it on a hill.

With candy canes
I'll hang the cranes,
And build a gumdrop stair.
Of lollipops
And lemon drops
I'll make a carousel there.

THE chocolate drops
And butterscotch
I'll pile outside the door.
With a taffy broom
I'll sweep the room
Then cook a whole lot more.

To all who come
I'll say, "Have some
To eat while looking through,
'Twill make you fat,
Just think of that,
Take ALL YOU WANT, please do!"
